

JFK Says U.S. Now Moving At Right Integration Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says he thinks "we are going at about the right tempo" on racial integration and that he does not believe Americans will make the "fatal mistake" of dividing politically along racial lines.

He said the recent desegregation of schools in 15 Southern cities "is an impressive story" reflecting great credit on Southerners who put respect for the law above emotion.

The President gave these views Thursday in a news conference during which he also put in another strong plug for Senate ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, announced he would address the United Nations next month, and defined U. S. policy in South Viet Nam.

Asked about a Gallup poll in which 50 per cent of those replying thought he was "pushing integration too fast," Kennedy said he thought the figure was accurate.

But he said he considered it "rather impressive" that another 40 per cent replied that the pace was "more or less right."

He said "change always disturbs, and, therefore, I was surprised that there wasn't greater opposition."

Bringing up the school desegregation subject in an opening statement, Kennedy had high praise for "the vast majority" of Southerners.

He noted that five federal judges who signed a school desegregation order in Alabama "were all from Alabama, all grew up in Alabama, and I am sure shared the views of the majority of Alabamians who, I think are not for desegregation, but, nevertheless, met their responsibilities under the law."

He also mentioned school desegregation in South Carolina, Florida and Georgia, and said it added up to "an impressive story."

Politically, he said "I don't know what 1964 is going to bring" but "I think a division upon racial lines would be unfortunate."

"Over the long run we are going to have a mix. This will be true racially, socially, ethnically, geographically, and that is really, finally, the best way."

He said in reply to another question he is not considering a stronger executive order aimed at eliminating discrimination in housing.

Congress OKs JFK's Medical School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent to the White House the first major administration bill to be cleared this session—President Kennedy's medical education program.

Democratic congressional leaders expressed hope today that the strategy which won easy passage for the measure will work with other sections of Kennedy's school program.

The Senate approved the $236.4 million medical bill by an overwhelming 71-9 vote. The House passed it in April 1958-1959.

It establishes the first broad federal aid program in education since passage of the 1958 National Defense Education Act.

The House this year chopped down the 10-year medical education program submitted by Kennedy to a three-year bill. The Senate accepted this without change Thursday, although sponsors made it clear they expect it to be extended by 1966.

The bill contains a $61.4 million student loan authorization and authorization for $175 million in grants to help build new schools or rehabilitate old ones to train doctors, dentists, and public health personnel.

Logan Broadcasting Co. Is Granted Charter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has issued incorporation papers for the Logan Broadcasting Co. The new firm, the incorporation papers said, will engage in radio broadcasting. Incorporators are George D. Charles, Logan; Virginia L. Goodwin, and R. J. Jones Jr. Stock will be 250 shares of no par common and starting capital $500, the application said.

VIET NAM: "We want the war to be won, the Communists to be contained and the Americans to go home. That is our policy."

ROCKEFELLER: With a big grin, and tongue obviously in cheek, Kennedy said he was prepared to accept the blame for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's recent withdrawal of a 1962 campaign pledge not to increase taxes in New York.

GOLDWATER: The President

also drew laughter when he said he was not yet ready to comment extensively on attacks by Sen. Barry Goldwater, a possible Republican candidate to oppose him in next year's presidential election. But Kennedy was serious in denying there were any secret commitments made to obtain the test ban treaty, as a questioner said had been hinted by Goldwater.

CUBA: Kennedy rejected as "dangerous" and "incendiary" any suggestions for a military invasion of Cuba.

PAKISTAN: Kennedy said he did not think Pakistan would make an alliance with Communist China in retaliation for U. S. aid to India.

Cuba Escapee Says Russians Give Orders in Havana Now

COZUMEL, Mexico (AP) — The leader of a band of refugees who escaped from Cuba last week in a hijacked navy tender said today that the Soviets now give the orders in his homeland.

"Our homeland is full of Russians," said Rafael Rodriguez, 48, a former Merchant Marine sailor who masterminded the flight of 89 Cubans, including 28 women and 22 children, to the Mexican island of Cozumel.

"The Russians are in a world apart, without contact with the Cuban people," Rodriguez told a reporter. "But it is they who dictate. That we cannot tolerate."

Rodriguez, who brought the refugees here after a perilous five-day voyage, said conditions were growing steadily worse in Cuba. "The people suffer increasingly from hunger and privation," he said. "Most do not even have shoes."

"Invited foreigners, who with a big show, are shown Castro's Cuba are kept away from the Cuban people. No contact with them is permitted."

"The visitors are put up in the fancy hotels, to which the people have no access. When visiting groups are taken anywhere, the areas visited are first cleared of people."

"This was the case with the group of American students which visited Cuba recently at Fidel Castro's invitation."

Rodriguez estimated that 95 per cent of the Cuban people are non-Communists.

"If they had the opportunity, all of them would do what we did—leave our beloved island," he said.

Recalling the escape voyage Rodriguez said a Cuban navy torpedo boat trailed them for hours, but finally veered off, apparently deceived by a homemade American flag flying from the mast of the tender.

The refugees searched the skies and seas for days hoping a U.S. plane or ship would appear and lead them to Florida. Because of short supplies they had to switch course the third night out and head for Mexico.

In Mexico City, a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said that if the refugees apply for visas to the United States they would be given prompt consideration.

GOP State Chiefs Gather For Powwow

DENVER (AP) — Republican governors of the nation, including at least two possible candidates for the presidential nomination, began moving into Denver today to perfect an organization to help unseat President Kennedy.

Twelve of the 16 GOP governors, including Nelson Rockefeller of New York and William Scranton of Pennsylvania, indicated they will be present. An informal get-together will be held at the Colorado governor's mansion tonight.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, frequently mentioned as a presidential possibility, will not be present, but will send a representative.

Gov. Paul Fannin of Arizona, who supports Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP presidential nomination, will be on hand. He told reporters he does not see how the Arizona senator now can avoid going after the GOP nomination.

The chairman of the informal governors group, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, made it clear that the governors—as an organization—will refrain from taking any position on candidates for the nomination. But he said any governor is free to take any individual position he wishes.

Central Ohio Is Struck by Severe Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Severe thundersqualls, bringing along hail, high winds and an apparent tornado or two, struck Central Ohio and greater Cincinnati with damaging effect Thursday afternoon.

Pickerington, in Fairfield County southeast of Columbus, felt the wrath of a big blow that tore off parts of houses, barns, corn cribs, garages and trees. The storm carried debris a half-mile in some instances and slammed it into other buildings.

At Pickerington High School, the window of an eighth grade classroom crashed in on the students injuring seven. The most seriously wounded was a girl who had to have glass removed from an eye.

At the Myrtle Milnor farm in Pickerington, the family had just sat down to dinner when just about everything around them crumbled. Several outbuildings were leveled, half a two-story barn blew away, a garage caved in on the two cars inside and flying debris hit the farmhouse, knocking down chimney bricks and roofing. No one was hurt.

To the northwest, in Union County, a large barn was felled at Broadway, eight miles north of Marysville. Studding was ripped off Broadway Elementary School. There were no injuries.

In Columbus, wind gusts were clocked at up to 48 miles per hour as almost an inch of rain fell in 20 minutes. Damage amounted to $3,000 at Price Field, an airport on the East Side where a funnel cloud was seen, as the corner of a hangar was ripped off and two parked planes were wrecked.

Weatherman Howard Kenny was receiving his 35-year pin for service with the U.S. Weather Bureau at Port Columbus when the rains came—some of them right under the bureau door. The ceremony went on while the floor was being mopped up.

Galena in Delaware County had hailstones larger than golf balls.

Hamilton's North and West End areas were without electricity for a time after the Southwest Ohio storm knocked out lines. A farm barn was destroyed at Hooover near Cincinnati, in a fire touched off by lightning. Traffic was blocked on U.S. 52 in Miami town by a fallen tree.

Storm Dumps 1.35 Inches Of Rain Here

A severe thunderstorm that hit the Pickaway County area yesterday afternoon caused little damage but left 1.35 inches of rain in its path.

The storm brought with it a cool front that was welcomed relief from the 90-degree mercury reading at noon yesterday.

Today's report from the weather man indicated a light frost may hit Pickaway County although east central Ohio was cited as the "frost warning area." The outlook for tomorrow calls for mild and cool weather with extremes of 38 and 70.

Yesterday's downpour caused instantaneous flooding of several intersections in the city due to storm sewers being unable to accommodate the heavy rainfall.

UTILITY companies reported that no major damage resulted during the storm although the South Central Rural Electric Co-op listed several individual services that were temporarily out.

Some rural areas also reported that hail stones fell during the peak of the storm.

Ceylon Envoy Chides Viet Nam Policies

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A Ceylonese delegate today challenged Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu's version of the Buddhist crisis in South Viet Nam. He called their treatment by President Ngo Dinh Diem's government a "serious violation of human rights and a threat to world peace."

Maitripala Senanayake, chief Ceylonese delegate to the 61-nation interparliamentary union, was replying to Mrs. Nhu's denial that there was any persecution of Buddhists in Viet Nam. "Would Madame Nhu's government permit an impartial inquiry through the medium of the United Nations so that the truth might be known to the world?" he asked.

The dynamic first lady of South Viet Nam, unable to answer from the floor because of conference rules, scheduled a news conference for Saturday to answer. The Ceylonese said the situation in South Viet Nam could give rise to religious strife throughout Asia.

"Madame Nhu said," commented the Ceylonese, "that the people of Viet Nam wanted to live as Vietnamese. But all that the Buddhists asked in Viet Nam was to be allowed to live and worship as free Buddhists."

"Can they enjoy that democracy she said was being set up?"

Christine Due For Hearing

LONDON (AP)—Christine Keeler was told today to appear Oct. 2 for a hearing on charges of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice.

The hearing will determine whether the red-haired central figure in the government sex scandal and three codefendants must stand trial.

The 21-year-old Christine, whose affair with ex-War Minister John Profumo led to a still unresolved government scandal, is accused with three other persons of seeking to subvert justice in the case of her ex-lover, Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, a Jamaican. Gordon, a Negro jazz singer, was sentenced to three years in prison June 7 after Christine testified he beat her up. The sentence was voided seven weeks later on the basis of new and undisclosed evidence.

Storm Dumps 1.35 Inches Of Rain Here

A severe thunderstorm that hit the Pickaway County area yesterday afternoon caused little damage but left 1.35 inches of rain in its path.

The storm brought with it a cool front that was welcomed relief from the 90-degree mercury reading at noon yesterday.

Today's report from the weather man indicated a light frost may hit Pickaway County although east central Ohio was cited as the "frost warning area." The outlook for tomorrow calls for mild and cool weather with extremes of 38 and 70.

Yesterday's downpour caused instantaneous flooding of several intersections in the city due to storm sewers being unable to accommodate the heavy rainfall.

UTILITY companies reported that no major damage resulted during the storm although the South Central Rural Electric Co-op listed several individual services that were temporarily out.

Some rural areas also reported that hail stones fell during the peak of the storm.

Solons Query

ban against travel to Cuba.

Inside the hearing room, things were not precisely orderly.

Committee Counsel Alfred Nittie asked Luce about dealings by Levi Laub of New York, a leader of the journey to Cuba, with airlines. Luce replied:

"I refuse to be an informant of all... I don't have any idea."

Nittie mentioned a man named Jay Jacobs.

"Who the hell is Jay Jacobs?" asked Luce.

Luce, who is 26 and an editor of the publication "Rights," put out by the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, was asked about a group called Progressive Labor.

"Not being a member of Progressive Labor or of the FBI or of the House Un-American Activities Committee I would have no ideas as to the membership of anyone in Progressive Labor," he said.

The leadoff witness was Barry Hoffman, 26, a Boston real estate man who went along on the Cuban trip after telling the FBI and Central Intelligence Agency he would be glad to report to them about it.

Hoffman said the group was no ordinary one. "Ordinary American students do not defy their government and do not travel to Cuba in violation of the law." Neither do ordinary American students cheer Mao Tse-tung and applaud the shooting down of an American helicopter in Viet Nam when they see it in a movie, Hoffman said.

ban against travel to Cuba

Inside the hearing room, things were not precisely orderly.

Committee Counsel Alfred Nitte asked Luce about dealings by Levi Laub of New York, a leader of the journey to Cuba, with airlines. Luce replied:

"I refuse to be an informant of all . . . I don't have any idea."

Nitte mentioned a man named Jay Jacobs.

"Who the hell is Jay Jacobs?" asked Luce.

Luce, who is 26 and an editor of the publication "Rights," put out by the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, was asked about a group called Progressive Labor.

"Not being a member of Progressive Labor or of the FBI or of the House Un-American Activities Committee I would have no ideas as to the membership of anyone in Progressive Labor," he said.

The leadoff witness was Barry Hoffman, 26, a Boston real estate man who went along on the Cuban trip after telling the FBI and Central Intelligence Agency he would be glad to report to them about it.

Hoffman said the group was no ordinary one. "Ordinary American students do not defy their government and do not travel to Cuba in violation of the law." Neither do ordinary American students cheer Mao Tse-tung and applaud the shooting down of an American helicopter in Viet Nam when they see it in a movie, Hoffman said.

Legion Calls For Cuba Move

Ouster of Castro Put On List of Objectives

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With a mandate to press for action to overthrow Fidel Castro's Cuban regime, Dan Foley took over today as national commander of the American Legion.

Foley, 41, a Wabasha, Minn., lawyer, was elected Thursday at the close of the Legion's annual convention.

Foley pledged support of the Legion platform, which demanded forceful measures against communism all around the globe.

He said history has shown "time and time again that the course of extremism, either to the left or to the right, is the course of failure."

Foley told the Legionnaires, who had just voted for ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, that "because the Soviet Union has been willing to become a party is no evidence that communism has abandoned its long pronounced objective of world conquest."

"It simply means, that for the time being, it does not best serve the cause of communism to engage in an all-out nuclear arms race," he said.

"The Communists have shown no inclination to decrease pressures now being applied to our sister republics to the south."

He said Red Cuba is the springboard for introduction of propaganda, sabotage and potential revolt in some areas of the hemisphere.

The resolution demanding the overthrow of Castro accused President Kennedy's administration of "timidity and vacillation" which it said "has gravely injured United States prestige and has brought humiliation and embarrassment to the American people." It demanded whatever steps necessary, including unilateral military force, to overthrow Castro. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Ohioan Collects Old Phonographs

Forest Colbert prepares to play one of his ancient, cylindrical "talking machine" records.

By GENE HERSH
Central Press Association
Correspondent

EUCLID, Ohio — Forest Lee Colbert, of this suburb of Cleveland, has more nostalgia of a bygone era than most folk who collect record players or who might boast of their stack of records from Caruso to Elvis Presley.

Colbert's unusual collection of early "phonographs", "talking machines" or "graphophones" (the name depends on the company that makes them) traces the development of record players from the 1890s to 1920.

All in workable condition, the record players do not just gather dust in an upstairs bedroom of the Colbert household. To supplement his rare collection, Colbert has over 2,500 cylindrical and disk records ranging from a speech by the great Teddy Roosevelt, shortly after he became president, to a hit of the 1900s, "Gasoline Gus and his Jiney Bus."

In all, Colbert has 50 ancient record players in his collection. Included is one of the rarest (only five in existence) the Idefia. This instrument was one of the first Edison machines that could talk and it consisted of a revolving cylinder covered with a sheet of tinfoil, a needle and a membrane.

Colbert boasts of having every model of phonograph that Edison made except the one that operated on batteries rather than by a crank. Incidentally several of Colbert's machines have a feature that is falsely believed to be a most recent development — an automatic turn-off.

Colbert has traveled throughout the U. S. to add to his collection. Just last year he picked up an ancient phonograph while visiting the Seattle, Wash., World's Fair. He also repairs them all, but in most cases must send to a supplier for the rare needles which have diamond or sapphire points. Colbert has been collecting the "talking machines" since 1958 and now claims he has the best collection of wooden horns for the machines in the country. On all of his machines, for the purpose of playing back the recorded sound, a large horn is mounted over the membrane.

Colbert won't give an estimated value of his collection except to say that his machines are not for sale at any price and that most of them cost him "plenty."

Harold Furniss, youth chairman announced that the fifth degree will be conferred Sept. 26 at the 4-H and Grange building by the county youth team and urged all members to attend. Flem Blair reported on his trip to Grange Camp at Kelly Island last month and thanked the grange for sending him. It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. William Liston will observe their wedding anniversary Tuesday and all members are asked to send them a card.

Election of officers was held with the following results: master, Carroll Reid; overseer, Lee Kern; steward, Pat Dawson; assistant steward, Flem Blair; chaplain, Mrs. Francis Furniss; treasurer, Paul Long; secretary, Helen Schleich, gatekeeper, Wilbur Beathard; cures, Linda Reid; pomona, Ernestine Dudson; flora, Frances Neff; lady assistant steward, Melanie Dudson; legislative agent, Herman Porter; pianist, Rose Adene Huffman; juvenile marten, Mrs. William Finch, with a committee consisting of Miss Florence Long, Mrs. Wilbur Beathard, Mrs. Paul Dawson and Mrs. Robert Morgan to assist.

Tax Collections Continue To Rise

From July 1 to Sept. 7 sales tax collections totaled $65,396.89. For similar period last year collections were $53,515.84.

Lewin's Specialty

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Navy Petty Officer Mark D. Lewin's athletic specialty is sit-ups.

The Pearl Harbor sailor recently did 3,033 sit-ups in three and one-half hours inside the wheelhouse of the Navy tugboat Quapaw.

The achievement didn't seem to tire Lewin too much, but it was hard on his buddies who kept count. They had to be rotated every hour.

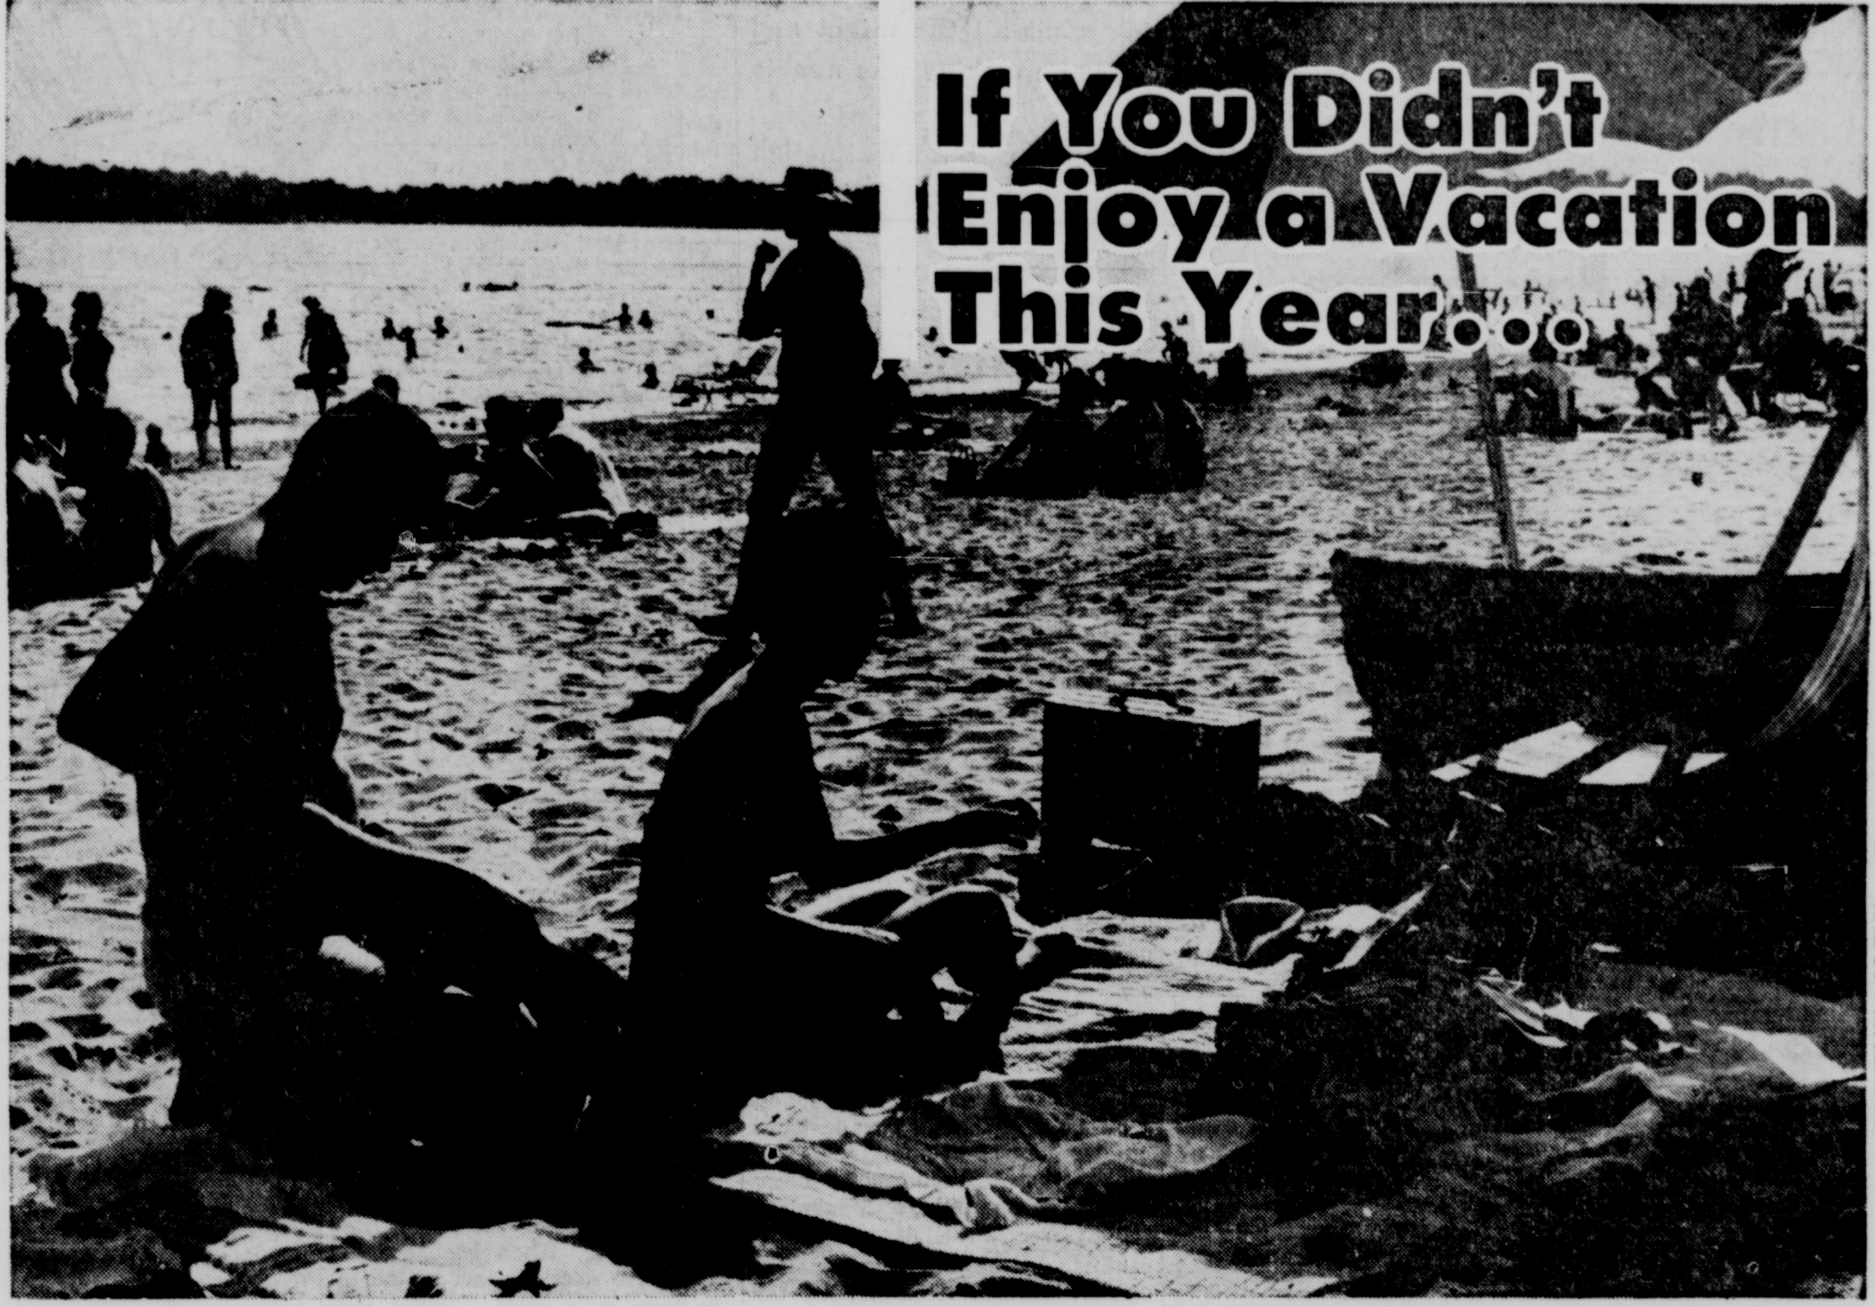

Lewin began practicing last year when President Kennedy's physical fitness program was introduced to the armed services.

Ohioan Collects Old Phonographs

Forest Colbert prepares to play one of his ancient, cylindrical "talking machine" records.

By GENE HERSH
Central Press Association
Correspondent

EUCLID, Ohio — Forest Lee Colbert, of this suburb of Cleveland, has more nostalgia of a bygone era than most folk who collect record players or who might boast of their stack of records from Caruso to Elvis Presley.

Colbert's unusual collection of early "phonographs," "talking machines" or "graphophones" (the name depends on the company that makes them) traces the development of record players from the 1890s to 1920.

All in workable condition, the record players do not just gather dust in an upstairs bedroom of the Colbert household. To supplement his rare collection, Colbert has over 2,500 cylindrical and disk records ranging from a speech by the great Teddy Roosevelt, shortly after he became president, to a hit of the 1900s, "Gasoline Gus and his Jiney Bus."

In all, Colbert has 50 ancient record players in his collection. Included is one of the rarest (only five in existence) the Idefa. This instrument was one of the first Edison machines that could talk and it consisted of a revolving cylinder covered with a sheet of tinfoil, a needle and a membrane.

Colbert boasts of having every model of phonograph that Edison made except the one that operated on batteries rather than by a crank. Incidentally several of Colbert's machines have a feature that is falsely believed to be a most recent development — an automatic turn-off.

Colbert has traveled throughout the U. S. to add to his collection. Just last year he picked up an ancient phonograph while visiting the Seattle, Wash., World's Fair. He also repairs them all, but in most cases must send to a supplier for the rare needles which have diamond or sapphire points. Colbert has been collecting the "talking machines" since 1958 and now claims he has the best collection of wooden horns for the machines in the country. On all of his machines, for the purpose of playing back the recorded sound, a large horn is mounted over the membrane.

Colbert won't give an estimated value of his collection except to say that his machines are not for sale at any price and that most of them cost him "plenty."

Sales and motor vehicle tax collections in Pickaway County continued at a pace ahead of collections last year according to a report from the office of John D. Herbert, state treasurer.

From July 1 to Sept. 7 sales tax collections totaled $65,396.89. For similar period last year collections were $53,515.84.

Motor vehicle taxes for the period are $48,492.32 compared to $38,764.65 last year.

Lewin began practicing last year when President Kennedy's physical fitness program was introduced to the armed services.

Triskidekaphobia

Do you have triskidekaphobia? This is not a condition your doctor can diagnose by having you stick out your tongue and say "Ah." Blood tests won't spot it, and no germ or virus has been tagged as responsible. It does seem to be contagious, though — at least more people catch it in areas where it is already prevalent.

But the meaning is clear enough, if you know Greek. Even without such knowledge, most mortals are aware that phobia is a synonym for fear. The rest of the word means 13. Triskidekaphobia is simply fear of 13.

Ten Years Hence

According to an economic projection by the National Planning Association, the future of the average American family couldn't be brighter. Looking toward 1973, the study shows there'll be much more money coming in. And maybe by then there will even be a tax cut.

An estimated 48 per cent of American families now have an income of at least $6,000, the minimum economists say is necessary for an adequate standard of living. But by 1973, when the U. S. population is expected to expand to 226 million, 65 per cent will be receiving $6,000 or more. In fact, the association predicts that average family income in the next decade will rise to $9,300.

Clock Stopper

Freedom heard no finer rallying call during World War II than the resolute stroke of Big Ben. High above the House of Parliament and seemingly an easy target for Hitler's blitz of London, the giant clock measured out Britain's finest hour without a falter. After that it was reasonable to assume that Big Ben was unstoppable.

But this was to reckon without the name-

Americans — because it breaks out from time to time in this country, though usually in less virulent form. In apartment houses and office buildings and even in house numbers the number 13 frequently becomes 12A or is simply skipped altogether. Only the calendar is unchangeable, which is why this September has a Friday the 13th.

Science continues on its way to create a better world even for people who don't believe in it. It is too much to hope that science may some day discover a specific cure for human phobias, including this one?

Not everybody, however, will participate in the rising prosperity. The prediction is for a drop in the unemployment rate from the current estimated 5.6 per cent to 4 per cent despite addition of 15 million persons to the civilian work force. Thus 3.5 million will be without jobs, largely because they are unskilled.

Government spending, alas, will keep on rising along with nearly everything else. Although federal, state and local revenues are expected to go up from $15.1 billion in 1962 to $275 billion in 1973, expenditures will outrun income, as usual — from $160.6 billion last year to $282.8 billion a decade hence.

It seems there'll always be a deficit.

Author Hates Paternalism

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"I hate paternalism," said author Irving Wallace, whose books now sell like sardines in Norway.

"I don't want any big daddies around me."

"If you own 51 per cent of yourself, you've got a good deal—and you can be happy. But if you own only 5 per cent of yourself, you're in bad shape."

Back in 1958, his friends felt Irving was set for life. Beginning with a $5 sale to a turf periodical at the age of 15, he had turned out 500 magazine articles and short stories.

Fifteen of his movie scripts had been produced and he was on the payroll at $1,000 a week as a screen writer.

"But the money wasn't doing me any good, although it seemed awesome at the time," Wallace recalled. "It just brought me more drinks or a more expensive suit."

"Hollywood shakes your sense of values. And I felt like somebody was holding my arm whenever I wrote."

"I was tired of being treated like a mechanic or a literary carpenter. I was tired of writing scripts and magazine articles. I wanted to write books so I'd be free to say what I wanted to say."

So Wallace decided to turn his back on $50,000 a year and take up novel writing, a field in which the average practitioner earns about the same as a charwoman — but has fewer fringe benefits.

"That was my moment of truth," he said. "But I shook all the way to my typewriter."

Using the same second-hand rebuilt typewriter which his parents gave him on his 13th birthday, Wallace has turned out four novels and two biographies since 1958.

All have been sold to the movies, but he really hit the jackpot with "The Chapman Report" and "The Prize." His latest novel, "The Three Sirens," was picked in advance of publication as a book club selection and auctioned to the films for $300,000.

Financially now in the millionaire class, Wallace has found his social standing in Hollywood has risen remarkably, too.

"As a screen writer you defer to stars and producers and rarely go to their parties," he said drily. "But as a novelist, I find that has all changed."

"They not only respect you. They treat you as an equal, and are anxious to meet you."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. businessmen are bracing for rising barriers on their trade with Western Europe. A year ago they were hoping for lower obstacles to trade.

The chicken war is only a small part of the trouble ahead. It arises because the European Common Market raised the duty on American poultry. When the United States said it would retaliate, the Common Market backed down so slightly that Washington was unimpressed.

But American financial and business circles say that the very nature of European tariff policies is spelling problems for American exporters no matter how the chicken war turns out.

The six Common Market nations — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg — are forging a no-tariff rule for themselves and a common tariff schedule on all outside goods.

The same is true of the Outer Seven—Britain, Switzerland, Austria, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Portugal.

This in itself will have each of the six or the seven a better chance at each other's markets than any one outside the rival trade blocs.

Until now the growing economy of Europe has absorbed a lot of American goods and materials, regardless of tariffs and other barriers. Now the market is growing really competitive.

"From now on the adverse effects of the European trade blocs on our exports are likely to be much more important," economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, assert.

"The degree of discrimination against exports from outside the Common Market will increase rapidly in the period ahead. The common external tariff wall now appears to be considerably more protective than the old national tariffs."

In a study of European trade policies, the bank economists predict that there will still be a sizable demand for American products. But they say that under the proposed rates in the common tariff the rise in U.S. exports to this important market may be slowed substantially.

In addition to tariffs the Common Market countries levy additional taxes on outside products. They are variously called turnover taxes, equalization taxes and srtaxes and range from 2 per cent to 25 per cent, imposed on the duty-added value of the imported goods.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

DR. W. S. CONSTABLE of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, observed in an essay, "At the turn of the century, American art collectors were keen on French paintings. It is well known that Corot painted about 3,000 very fine pictures and that about 5,000 of these reached the United States."

A young bride in distress called her father and wailed, "I'm afraid I've married a drinking man. All last night Oscar kept mumbling in his sleep, 'No, Sidney, no. I don't care if it's free: not one more drink for me.'"

Interrupted the father wistfully, "Did Oscar happen to mention any address?"

Currently popular is the story of the marriage consultant who was trying valiantly to reconcile a warring couple. "Why can't you get along with your wife?" he demanded of the troubled husband. "I'm not the one to blame for all this," replied the husband, "but what's her name there keeps yapping that I'm not attentive enough to her."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

From its inception and conception, pregnancy is a joint venture.

There was a time when pregnancy and childbirth were the private enterprise of the mother only. Today, the husband shares the burden and the joy of expectant parenthood by actually participating, rather than being a sympathetic but passive observer.

Prenatal educational program emphasize the psychological support that husbands can offer to their wives during the actual time of childbirth. When husband and wife share every aspect of the total experience, it is believed that the birth of the child becomes an additional solidifying bond in marital happiness.

Some hospitals, recognizing the contribution of the father during the delivery of the child, actually arrange for his presence in the delivery room. Contrary to the original anticipation of hospital administrators and nurses, it has been demonstrated that the reassuring presence of the husband during labor reduces the need for special nursing care.

Expectant fathers, trained during the nine-month prenatal period, can actually become important "operating room assistants" by the emotional security they impart to their wives during delivery. Not all hospitals are ready to accept this radical departure that brings the father from the waiting room to the delivery room. Yet fathers are taking a more intimate and active part in every phase of labor and delivery of the child. Their training extends to the care and feeding of the infant even during the hospital stay.

When the cigars are passed out, today's father takes pride in his role as an active participant in the birth of his child.

Canker sores, or aphthous ulcers of the mouth, lips and tongue, have been attributed to such diversified causes as allergy to cherries and chocolate, "acid" foods and virus infection.

Although every sufferer from this annoying condition seems to have his own personal explanation of the cause, none have been more than a speculation.

Canker sores have steadfastly defied any intrusion on their origin or cure. Scientists at the National Institute of Health have recently found a peculiar L-shaped bacteria that may finally be established as the cause of irritating recurring, painful canker sores.

When seen under the microscope, the bacteria possesses the unusual combination of characteristics of both a virus and bacteria. Bacterial cultures taken from patients with the condition indicate that the new L-shaped bacteria may lie dormant for many months before becoming active. This probably accounts for the fact that these ulcers may occur at the same site with frequency but no pattern of regularity.

It is hoped that this bacteria will be definitively proven as a cause of canker sores so that a vaccine can be prepared for permanent prevention of this bothersome condition.

In Texas, 24 routin', tootin' patients, all young men, were found to be self-shootin' cowboys while practicing the fast draw. Now if the good guy is going to live long, enough to catch the bad guy, he'd better substitute blanks or hard peas for live bullets!

Congress and Arbitration

By John Chamberlain

The suggestion has been made that Congress, having headed off a nationwide railroad strike by imposing compulsory arbitration on the unions, has created a precedent that will be invoked in the future to prevent any and all big industry-wide or regionally important work stoppages.

Since the suggestion contains an element of prophetic truth, it is worth close analysis. Clearly some sort of precedent has been established, and the labor chiefs of the nation will have to walk warily in the years ahead before taking their issues to street and picket line. But as long as labor retains its crucial voting power in politically important states, compulsory arbitration measures will hardly be used indiscriminately. Whether or not they are to be invoked by Congress in the future to control the course of labor-management disputes will almost certainly depend on a definition of what it takes to "paralyze" the American economy.

A big newspaper strike in an important metropolitan area is hardly worth the cost to any of the unions involved. It weakens newspapers, which is a bad thing for anyone connected with them. But just what does such a strike "paralyze"? It slows business, it is a dreadful inconvenience, but there are bootleg ways of getting information. The life of New York City went on during the recent strike, though at a muted and frequently boring pace.

If there is ever to be a nationwide strike in steel again, it would be called "paralytic" by some. But would it be truly so? Taft-Hartley procedures can always be counted on to give warning of a coming steel stoppage, and this gives the manufacturers of steel products an opportunity to build up their raw steel inventories. Even after the inventories have been used up, people can "make do" with existing steel products for a long time. And in many instances there are acceptable substitutes for steel, such as plastics, aluminum and fiberglass.

A big strike in the automobile industry could continue for months without putting people off the roads of America. Car owners would simply keep the old jalopies rolling as they did for four years in World War II.

So what kind of strike is truly "paralytic"? The answer would seem to be only a strike that has an important "goods-to-market" angle. A nationwide railroad work stoppage would obviously serve to keep all manner of industries from functioning by cutting them off from their raw material sources at one end and from their customers at the other. It would deprive people of food, fuel, and all manner of necessities. This could be defined as truly "paralytic" meaning that motion in essential life-sustaining areas would be stopped.

So the scope of the Congressional precedent in settling the railroad featherbed dispute becomes clear: compulsory arbitration will in all probability be invoked in the future whenever a strike threatens to keep a wide variety of goods from moving into the market place. This means that Jimmy Hoffa's truckdrivers will hardly be permitted to strike uniformly all across the nation. It means that the longshoremen's and the seamen's unions must think twice before attempting to close down the waterborne freight business. Hoffa and the maritime unions are in the "goods-to-market" sector of the economy just as much as the railroads. The truckdrivers and the longshoremen could truly paralyze the economy.

The "goods-to-market" test gives Congress an important piece of litmus paper to use in considering future compulsory arbitration measures. The fact that this promises Walter Reuther of the auto workers and David McDonald of the steel workers an immunity that must be denied to Jimmy Hoffa and the maritime chiefs may not seem equitable to truck drivers, longshoremen or sailors. But industries differ in their essential nature. The nation's railroads and motor roads and docksides have an "essential domain" angle and the government has a duty to see that the political power of essential domain is used to serve all the people where it impinges on goods-to-market movement. Paralysis in any wide "goods-to-market" operation is essentially different from paralysis in an industry that sells products whose use can be postponed, or substituted for, without bringing the functions of life to a standstill.

"I was tired of being treated like a mechanic or a literary carpenter. I was tired of writing scripts and magazine articles. I wanted to write books so I'd be free to say what I wanted to say."

So Wallace decided to turn his back on $50,000 a year and take up novel writing, a field in which the average practitioner earns about the same as a charwoman — but has fewer fringe benefits.

"That was my moment of truth," he said. "But I shook all the way to my typewriter."

Using the same second-hand rebuilt typewriter which his parents

gave him on his 13th birthday, Wallace has turned out four novels and two biographies since 1958.

All have been sold to the movies, but he really hit the jackpot with "The Chapman Report" and "The Prize." His latest novel, "The Three Sirens," was picked in advance of publication as a book club selection and auctioned to the films for $300,000.

Financially now in the millionaire class, Wallace has found his social standing in Hollywood has risen remarkably, too.

"As a screen writer you defer to stars and producers and rarely go to their parties," he said drily. "But as a novelist, I find that has all changed."

"They not only respect you. They treat you as an equal, and are anxious to meet you."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. businessmen are bracing for rising barriers on their trade with Western Europe. A year ago they were hoping for lower obstacles to trade.

The chicken war is only a small part of the trouble ahead. It arises because the European Common Market raised the duty on American poultry. When the United States said it would retaliate, the Common Market backed down so slightly that Washington was unimpressed.

But American financial and business circles say that the very nature of European tariff policies is spelling problems for American exporters no matter how the chicken war turns out.

The six Common Market nations — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg — are forging a no-tariff rule for themselves and a common tariff schedule on all outside goods.

The same is true of the Outer Seven—Britain, Switzerland, Austria, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Portugal.

This in itself will have each of the six or the seven a better chance at each other's markets than any one outside the rival trade blocs.

Until now the growing economy of Europe has absorbed a lot of American goods and materials, regardless of tariffs and other barriers. Now the market is growing really competitive.

"From now on the adverse effects of the European trade blocs on our exports are likely to be much more important," economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, assert.

"The degree of discrimination against exports from outside the Common Market will increase rapidly in the period ahead. The common external tariff wall now appears to be considerably more protective than the old national tariffs."

In a study of European trade policies, the bank economists predict that there will still be a sizeable demand for American products. But they say that under the proposed rates in the common tariff the rise in U.S. exports to this important market may be slowed substantially.

In addition to tariffs the Common Market countries levy additional taxes on outside products. They are variously called turnover taxes, equalization taxes and surtaxes and range from 2 per cent to 25 per cent, imposed on the duty-added value of the imported goods.

DR. W. S. CONSTABLE of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, observed in an essay, "At the turn of the century, American art collectors were keen on French paintings. It is well known that Corot painted about 3,000 very fine pictures and that about 5,000 of these reached the United States."

A young bride in distress called her father and wailed, "I'm afraid I've married a drinking man. All last night Oscar kept mumbling in his sleep, 'No, Sidney, no. I don't care if it's free: not one more drink for me!'"

Interrupted the father wistfully, "Did Oscar happen to mention any address?"

Currently popular is the story of the marriage consultant who was trying valiantly to reconcile a warring couple. "Why can't you get along with your wife?" he demanded of the troubled husband. "I'm not the one to blame for all this," replied the husband, "but what's-her-name there keeps yapping that I'm not attentive enough to her."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

From its inception and conception, pregnancy is a joint venture.

There was a time when pregnancy and childbirth were the private enterprise of the mother only. Today, the husband shares the burden and the joy of expectant parenthood by actually participating, rather than being a sympathetic but passive observer.

Prenatal educational program emphasize the psychological support that husbands can offer to their wives during the actual time of childbirth. When husband and wife share every aspect of the total experience, it is believed that the birth of the child becomes an additional solidifying bond in marital happiness.

Some hospitals, recognizing the contribution of the father during the delivery of the child, actually arrange for his presence in the delivery room. Contrary to the original anticipation of hospital administrators and nurses, it has been demonstrated that the reassuring presence of the husband during labor reduces the need for special nursing care.

Expectant fathers, trained during the nine-month prenatal period, can actually become important "operating room assistants" by the emotional security they impart to their wives during delivery.

Not all hospitals are ready to accept this radical departure that brings the father from the waiting room to the delivery room. Yet fathers are taking a more intimate and active part in every phase of labor and delivery of the child. Their training extends to the care and feeding of the infant even during the hospital stay.

When the cigars are passed out, today's father takes pride in his role as an active participant in the birth of his child.

Canker sores, or aphthous ulcers of the mouth, lips and tongue, have been attributed to such diversified causes as allergy to cherries and chocolate, "acid" foods and virus infection.

Although every sufferer from this annoying condition seems to have his own personal explanation of the cause, none have been more than a speculation.

Canker sores have steadfastly defied any intrusion on their origin or cure. Scientists at the National Institute of Health have recently found a peculiar L-shaped bacteria that may finally be established as the cause of irritating recurring, painful canker sores.

When seen under the microscope, the bacteria possesses the unusual combination of characteristics of both a virus and bacteria. Bacterial cultures taken from patients with the condition indicate that the new L-shaped bacteria may lie dormant for many months before becoming active. This probably accounts for the fact that these ulcers may occur at the same site with frequency but no pattern of regularity.

It is hoped that this bacteria will be definitively proven as a cause of canker sores so that a vaccine can be prepared for permanent prevention of this bothersome condition.

In Texas, 24 routin', tootin' patients, all young men, were found to be self-shootin' cowboys while practicing the fast draw. Now if the good guy is going to live long enough to catch the bad guy, he'd better substitute blanks or hard peas for live bullets!

Congress and Arbitration

By John Chamberlain

The suggestion has been made that Congress, having headed off a nationwide railroad strike by imposing compulsory arbitration on the unions, has created a precedent that will be invoked in the future to prevent any and all big industry-wide or regionally important work stoppages.

Since the suggestion contains an element of prophetic truth, it is worth close analysis. Clearly some sort of precedent has been established, and the labor chiefs of the nation will have to walk warily in the years ahead before taking their issues to street and picket line. But as long as labor retains its crucial voting power in politically important states, compulsory arbitration measures will hardly be used indiscriminately. Whether or not they are to be invoked by Congress in the future to control the course of labor-management disputes will almost certainly depend on a definition of what it takes to "paralyze" the American economy.

A big newspaper strike in an important metropolitan area is hardly worth the cost to any of the unions involved. It weakens newspapers, which is a bad thing for anyone connected with them. But just what does such a strike "paralyze"? It slows business, it is a dreadful inconvenience, but there are bootleg ways of getting information. The life of New York City went on during the recent strike, though at a muted and frequently boring pace.

If there is ever to be a nationwide strike in steel again, it would be called "paralytic" by some. But would it be truly so? Taft-Hartley procedures can always be counted on to give warning of a coming steel stoppage, and this gives the manufacturers of steel products an opportunity to build up their raw steel inventories. Even after the inventories have been used up, people can "make do" with existing steel products for a long time. And in many instances there are acceptable substitutes for steel, such as plastics, aluminum and fiberglass.

A big strike in the automobile industry could continue for months without putting people off the roads of America. Car owners would simply keep the old jalopies rolling as they did for four years in World War II.

So what kind of strike is truly "paralytic"? The answer would seem to be only a strike that has an important "goods-to-market" angle. A nationwide railroad work stoppage would obviously serve to keep all manner of industries from functioning by cutting them off from their raw material sources at one end and from their customers at the other. It would deprive people of food, fuel, and all manner of necessities. This could be defined as truly "paralytic" meaning that motion in essential life-sustaining areas would be stopped.

So the scope of the Congressional precedent in settling the railroad featherbed dispute becomes clear: compulsory arbitration will in all probability be invoked in the future whenever a strike threatens to keep a wide variety of goods from moving into the market place.

This means that Jimmy Hoffa's truckdrivers will hardly be permitted to strike uniformly all across the nation. It means that the longshoremen's and the seamen's unions must think twice before attempting to close down the waterborne freight business. Hoffa and the maritime unions are in the "goods-to-market" sector of the economy just as much as the railroads. The truckdrivers and the longshoremen could truly paralyze the economy.

The "goods-to-market" test gives Congress an important piece of litmus paper to use in considering future compulsory arbitration measures. The fact that this promises Walter Reuther of the auto workers and David McDonald of the steel workers an immunity that must be denied to Jimmy Hoffa and the maritime chiefs may not seem equitable to truck drivers, longshoremen or sailors. But industries differ in their essential nature. The nation's railroads and motor roads and dockside have an "essential domain" angle and the government has a duty to see that the political power of eminent domain is used to serve all the people where it impinges on goods-to-market movement. Paralysis in any wide "goods-to-market" operation is essentially different from paralysis in an industry that sells products whose use can be postponed, or substituted for, without bringing the functions of life to a standstill.

Dear Abby: Be Satisfied, Woman

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've got a good husband. He doesn't drink. He brings home his whole pay check and is really good with the kids. And he never goes any place without me. But he never gives me a compliment. If I get a new dress or change my hair style, he doesn't even notice. If I ask him how I look, he says, "Just fine." Abby, it sure gets depressing with a man who doesn't pay any attention to the little things.

DOWNHEARTED: A husband who takes as good care of the BIG things as yours does can be forgiven if he overlooks a few

"little things". What greater compliment can a man pay his wife than to come home (sober) every night with his pay check whole, play with his children and stay with his wife? Lady, you've got a lifelong date with an angel. Pooh pooh on praise!

DEAR ABBY: My wife came from a family where the one who yelled the loudest got the floor I knew this when I married her but I didn't think it would show up so strong in her. It is very embarrassing to have my wife butt in to make some correction or addition when I am relating an incident or telling a story. She is a good person otherwise, but this bad habit is deplorable. What do you suggest? She does this with everybody.

BUTT IN ON: First, tell your wife privately that when you—or anyone else—is talking, she should not "butt in". Explain that it makes her appear rude and inconsiderate. Ask her to try to overcome it, and offer to "help" her with a subtle reminder such as, "Pardon me, Darling, I believe someone else was talking," should she forget. And she won't forget nearly so often.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing to you for some advice. My 15-year-old daughter is too fat. She weighs 190 pounds. Many doctors have tried to get her weight down, but none of them did any good. Please, Abby, tell me what to do.

A WORRIED MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: NO ONE can help your daughter if she refuses to help herself. When SHE writes to tell me that her weight is HER problem, I will tell her what to do.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LINDA: You are mistaken. No matter how many years of "education" you have had than your parents, they will always be 25 years ahead of you in experience. Listen, dear, and learn.

"little things". What greater compliment can a man pay his wife than to come home (sober) every night with his pay check whole, play with his children and stay with his wife? Lady, you've got a lifelong date with an angel. Pooh pooh on praise!

DEAR ABBY: My wife came from a family where the one who yelled the loudest got the floor I knew this when I married her but I didn't think it would show up so strong in her. It is very embarrassing to have my wife butt in to make some correction or addition when I am relating an incident or telling a story. She is a good person otherwise, but this bad habit is deplorable. What do you suggest? She does this with everybody.

BUTT IN ON
DEAR BUTT IN ON: First, tell your wife privately that when you—or anyone else—is talking, she should not "butt in". Explain that it makes her appear rude and inconsiderate. Ask her to try to overcome it, and offer to "help" her with a subtle reminder such as, "Pardon me, Darling, I believe someone else was talking," should she forget. And she won't forget nearly so often.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing to you for some advice. My 15-year-old daughter is too fat. She weighs 190 pounds. Many doctors have tried to get her weight down, but none of them did any good. Please, Abby, tell me what to do.

A WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: NO ONE can help your daughter if she refuses to help herself. When SHE writes to tell me that her weight is HER problem, I will tell her what to do.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LINDA:
You are mistaken. No matter how many years of "education" you have had than your parents, they will always be 25 years ahead of you in experience. Listen, dear, and learn.

Local Baha' Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha' teachings: "Christians expect the return of Christ, Jews the coming of the Lord of Hosts; Muslims of the Sunni sect, the Mihdi; Buddhists expect the return of another Buddah, Hindus the return of Krishna; Zoroastrians expect the return of Shah Bahram. What could be more logical and natural than that all these so similar prophecies should refer to a unique age in which a single messenger of God comes to fulfill them all and to unite mankind in a common faith?"

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Television's summer viewers may not have been wildly amused by the re-run season but a lot of actors profited.

Statistics for July, released by the Screen Actors Guild, show that residual payments to performers for re-runs were close to a million dollars, almost half again as much as they were the previous year.

Part of the 42 per cent increase resulted from a boost in the $90 minimum re-run payment to $100 per show for performers. Perhaps more important is the fact that last season, re-runs started earlier than ever — some even in April. There were more repeats, hence more money.

Financial boons though the re-treads may be to sponsors, producers and performers, there is some evidence that viewers protest in their own quiet way — by not watching.

The most recent Nielsen ratings show that CBS' "What's My Line," a vintage panel show that has always resisted re-runs, leaped into the number three position on the popularity poll. And CBS' "Vacation Playhouse," a collection of unsold comedy pilot films, and pretty dreary ones at that, was ninth.

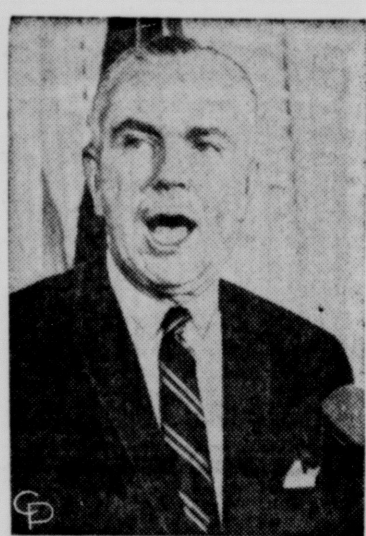

During the next three weeks, new programs and old programs with new material will be launched so fast and furiously that no individual viewer can sample them all.

The action starts tonight. "International Showtime" resumes on NBC (7:30-8:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time), with acts from the Munich Circus. First premiere of the season will be "Harry's Girl's," also on NBC at 9:30.

"The Lieutenant," another NBC series, bows on Saturday night (7:30-8:30), followed with the first program of Joey Bishop's new season.

ABC will present three new series Sunday evening, from 7:30 to 10:30. They start with "The Travel of Jaimie McPheeters," an hour-long adventure series, followed by "Arrest and Trial," a 90-minute action show that starts with a man-hunt and ends in a courtroom. Finally, there's the debut of "100 Grand," the big-money show which is alleged to be positively, absolutely rig-proof.

There's also NBC's "Grindl," starring Imogene Coca, at 8:30, and the first new show of NBC's "Show of the Week" season, "The Last Hangman," starring Ed Begley.

"SHELLS" DEFENSE — Adm. George W. Anderson, who was dropped as Chief of Naval Operations after one two-year term, tells the National Press Club in Washington that "I am gravely concerned that within the Department of Defense there is not the degree of confidence and trust between the civilian and military echelons that the importance of their common objective requires." He is ambassador-designate to Portugal.

All Those Army Cuts

HONOLULU (AP) — An Army barber got VIP treatment from 1,000 soldiers ranging from colonels to privates when he completed 30 years of haircutting at Schofield Barracks.

Cayetano Jimeno, 54, proudly strutted down an aisle formed of flags of the 50 states, escorted by William A. McKean, commander of the 25th Division's 27th Infantry "Wolfhounds," to receive his citation.

Then he walked to a quadrangle where the troops watched him cut a huge birthday cake. It was on his birthday in 1933 that "Jimmy" began clipping hair for GIs at Schofield, and he's been there ever since.

A mock official dubbed Lord of Mistrule was traditionally named during the Middle Ages to preside during Yuletide festivities in England. The same custom was followed in Scotland where the title of Abbot of Unreason was applied.

Africa Missionaries Give Up Much, Such as Root Beer

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Being a missionary in Africa requires a lot of sacrifices—such as giving up root beer.

"There's just nowhere to go for root beer in Africa," says Virginia Patterson, 32, a missionary to Nigeria.

On home leave she said she misses being able to get up and go out in Africa "when I feel like it—like going for a root beer" more than she misses modern plumbing, electricity and appliances common in the United States.

But Miss Patterson is a dedicated missionary, firmly convinced of the need of teaching Christianity throughout Africa.

She also is a busy student. Since she was graduated from the University of Tulsa in 1953, she earned master's degrees in Bible study from a South Carolina college and in elementary education from Oklahoma State University.

She has spent four years in Nigeria, where she is a seventh grade teacher at the Sudan interior mission school.

Prison Stretch Looms For 2 Cincinnatians

CINCINNATI (AP)—Five years in prison are ahead for two Cincinnati men who pleaded guilty to bank robbery charges in the $957 holdup last May 24 of Franklin Savings & Loan Co. Judge John Peck ordered the terms Thursday for Robert Joseph Beel, 32, and Walter Jerome Pavely, 49.

She has her own home, built by Africans of mud bricks.

In the area where she works, there is one church to every 10,000 people, compared to 84 Baptist churches serving Tulsa.

"Here in Tulsa you see a church on every corner, each with a pastor, assistant pastor, education director, minister of music, etc.," she says. "These men could be in the mission field."

"People just aren't interested in religious things. They only care about material things—their beautiful church buildings."

"The Africans walk for miles to come to church in mud huts. They sit on cement benches."

Miss Patterson, sponsored by a Tulsa Baptist church, now is assigned to teach children of missionary parents. This is a vital task, she feels.

"The children of missionaries deserve the very best attention," she says. "They sacrifice as much for the Lord as do their parents."

Barkley Statue

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A life-size statue of the late Alben Barkley will be dedicated Oct. 3 in the State Capitol rotunda.

The bronze figure of Barkley, former U.S. senator and vice president, was cast in Rome.

It will occupy the remaining vacancy in the "Hall of Fame." Other statues include those of Abraham Lincoln, Henry Clay, Jefferson Davis and Dr. Ephraim McDowell, the state's most famous doctor.

Portsmouth Shoe Firm Plans for Expansion

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — One of Portsmouth's oldest firms, the Williams Manufacturing Co., makers of women's and children's shoes, has announced plans for a two-phase expansion program.

Company President William O. Lucas said the firm soon will begin production of a new line of "high priced" women's shoes and will take over the former Selby Shoe Co. building to handle that operation. Also, Lucas said, Williams has bought the Lucille Footwear Co. at Williamsport, Pa., and will manufacture children's shoes there as a subsidiary company to be known as the Lycoming Shoe Co.

FROM OUR OLD FAMILY ALBUM...

What nostalgic memories this picture brings. Every Sunday morning we used to drive to Church in Pop's old "fiivver," picking up the Parson on the way.

Today I live in a great city. I ride commuter's trains, and dictate letters, and spend endless hours "in conference."

But I've never forgotten our Church in the field. It plowed deep furrows in my life, and planted the seeds of real happiness.

Now I worship in a big city church. You might think it would be different; but it isn't. Folks are just as friendly. The Truth is just the same. And God is just as close.

You see, in the country or in the city, Christians are conscientious people trying to be better. And for folks like you and me who worship God, the Church — big or little — is home

Company President William O. Lucas said the firm soon will begin production of a new line of "high priced" women's shoes and will take over the former Selby Shoe Co. building to handle that operation. Also, Lucas said, Williams has bought the Lucille Footwear Co. at Williamsport, Pa., and will manufacture children's shoes there as a subsidiary company to be known as the Locomotive Shoe Co.

FROM OUR OLD FAMILY ALBUM...

What nostalgic memories this picture brings. Every Sunday morning we used to drive to Church in Pop's old "flivver," picking up the Parson on the way.

Today I live in a great city. I ride commuter's trains, and dictate letters, and spend endless hours "in conference."

But I've never forgotten our Church in the field. It plowed deep furrows in my life, and planted the seeds of real happiness.

Now I worship in a big city church. You might think it would be different; but it isn't. Folks are just as friendly. The Truth is just the same. And God is just as close.

You see, in the country or in the city, Christians are conscientious people trying to be better. And for folks like you and me who worship God, the Church — big or little — is home

Joseph in Egypt

HOW ONE'S LIFE CAN BECOME A CHANNEL OF BLESSING TO ALL IT TOUCHES, THROUGH GOD'S DIRECTION.

Scripture—Genesis 37—50.

By N. SPEER JONES

THIS WEEK we take up chapters 39-45 in the long three-week assignment on Joseph. We pick up the story in Egypt, where Joseph has been taken by the Ishmaelite caravan and sold to Potiphar, the Pharaoh's captain of the guard.

It is apparent that Potiphar soon appreciated Joseph's fine moral qualities and administrative abilities, for he trusted him and put him in charge of everything he had. Temptation came to him through Potiphar's wife, but Joseph resisted through his loyalty to Potiphar; his firm knowledge of God, which kept him from the sinfulness of her proposals, and his sheer physical removal from such sin.

It would seem that perhaps Potiphar realized that Joseph's predicament was his wife's fault rather than Joseph's, for the ability to judge men, for he immediately recognizes Joseph's worth and dramatically places him in command, second only to himself.

The word translated "bow the knee" (Genesis 41:42) is an Egyptian word in use even today; the appearance of such words in this part of Genesis indicates that it was written while the Jews were in Egypt.

Joseph is now 30. Notice how he has matured from the lad who saw himself as the center of the world to the man who spends all his energies trying to serve his fellow men—including, especially, the very family which had rejected him.

Joseph is 37 when his brothers come seeking food. It has been 20 years since they have seen him, and with his change in raiment and position, it is

GOLDEN TEXT

"But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven." —Matthew 5:44-45.

normal procedure in an Oriental country would have been torture and execution for an attempted crime of this nature; yet Joseph is simply imprisoned.

When Joseph is finally taken from prison and called before Pharaoh, special mention is made of the fact that he shaved. This is probably because, as the ancient historian Herodotus tells us, the Egyptians grew beards only when in mourning, or in low position. In Palestine, on the other hand, the beard was considered ornamental. Joseph, therefore, would probably have worn one in prison, but desired to shave it when going before Pharaoh.

Notice that when he interprets Pharaoh's dreams, he does not use the opportunity to aggrandize himself, but gives God full credit. Pharaoh apparently was endowed with great not surprising that they do not recognize him.

Joseph must have realized that his own period of humiliation purified him, for he caused his brothers' discomfiture (by replacing their money and hiding his own cup in their sacks) in order to humble them so that they, too, might see God's way.

Like the great man that he is, once the brothers have had their consciences pricked, Joseph does not allow them to dwell on their guilt, but turns their thoughts to the greater purposes of God which they may help serve.

Goshen, where Jacob and the rest of Joseph's family are settled in Egypt, was east of the Nile, running roughly from Memphis north to the Mediterranean and east to the land of the Philistines.

Ohio-Solon Studios Anti-Tito Resolution
WASHINGTON (AP)—The word that Yugoslavia's President Tito is coming to confer Oct. 17 with President Kennedy has led Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, to look into his old files. He said he was reviewing his 1957 resolution denying funds to entertain Tito when the Red dictator was thinking of visiting President Eisenhower.

Bow said Thursday he hadn't decided yet whether to introduce such a resolution again. But he said he didn't care for the idea of entertaining a man "who recently embraced Khrushchev."

Famed Tiffin Glass Firm Given New Breath of Life

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—"A lot of people said it was dead and I was just too foolish to know it," C.W. Carlson Jr. commented as he dashed around an aged factory here which, Monday will resume producing some of the world's finest glassware.

Carlson is president of the new Tiffin Art Glass Corp., which has overcome huge odds to reopen the factory, closed down last December.

The 32-year-old executive appears to have the energy and vitality of a teen-ager, the wisdom of a man twice his years and underneath the command and authority of a Marine drill sergeant.

"I never believed that his business was through," Carlson said.

His father was president of the old firm, U. S. Glass Co., and brought it from an unknown operation in 1938 to a world-known producer of Tiffinware.

In 1958, the elder Carlson sold his interests in the firm but remained running the operation here. From then on it went down hill. Money seemed to evaporate and last December the doors closed.

From that dark day, Carlson has been planning for Monday.

He and three other former employees, Paul J. Williams, E. Ellisworth Beebe, and Miss Beatrice Platt, pooled their money and began rebuilding. Williams now is secretary and plant engineer and Miss Platt, formerly a secretary, is treasurer. Beebe died unexpectedly last June.

After obtaining two loans the little group managed to gain control of the plant property from the Teamsters Union which had picked up the option as an investment. Next, they gained control of about $500,000 of inventory—much of it unknown to the previous owners. Some glassware, now collectors items, appeared to have been crated in the 1880s.

In June, with only limited area publicity, Carlson opened a warehouse for public sale to raise working capital.

In one day $15,000 had been poured into the cash registers.

In two days, an estimated 10,000 persons had walked through the converted garage parking lot at attendees counted cars from 28 states.

Word was spread by word of mouth, tourists heard of the sale and stopped, jewellers who had Tiffin crystal swarmed in. The sale was repeated about two months later and a total of about $65,000 was raised.

With the reopening nearing Carlson put out a call for volunteers to help clean up the rambling brick plant. "I finally had to ask the radio station to start telling people to stay away," Carlson said. "We had so many folks out here working that they were getting in each other's way."

Last week, Carlson and his little group began firing up huge furnaces which will pour out molten glass that will be hand-blown and shaped into glassware which is used in the White House and Buckingham Palace.

The energetic Carlson, who has been working in the plant since he was 16, is everywhere around the old factory. He will be down working on his hands and knees in front of a furnace as it builds up to 2,600 degrees and then he'll dash back up stairs to take care of orders, then back down to molding rooms to check on samples which workmen use literally to build some glass objects.

Monday, 100 skilled glassworkers will be back on a payroll. In about two weeks, Carlson plans to hire back another 100 and eventually build employment to 500, the payroll during the peak years of 1946-47.

"We already have orders for about $300,000," Carlson said. Tiffin glassware ranges from ash trays — some of them costing $150 — to huge crystal punch bowls running into the thousands of dollars.

The Tiffin label is known the world over and Carlson said he receives many requests just for labels because some past customer has had the label tear off an item.

Glassware has been produced in the city of about 23,000 since the 1880s. The industry rose to great heights in the 1940s, started slipping in the 1950s and collapsed last year.

Next week, Gov. James A. Rhodes is expected to visit the revitalized plant which appears headed back toward the peak years.

"We never had a loss of demand for our products, it was just a loss of capital," Carlson explained.

"One thing I'll guarantee . . . I'll never let this plant slip away from me again."

Joseph in Egypt

HOW ONE'S LIFE CAN BECOME A CHANNEL OF BLESSING TO ALL IT TOUCHES, THROUGH GOD'S DIRECTION.

Scripture—Genesis 37—50.

By N. SPEER JONES
 THIS WEEK we take up chapters 39-45 in the long three-week assignment on Joseph. We pick up the story in Egypt, where Joseph has been taken by the Ishmaelite caravan and sold to Potiphar, the Pharaoh's captain of the guard.
 It is apparent that Potiphar soon appreciated Joseph's fine moral qualities and administrative abilities, for he trusted him and put him in charge of everything he had. Temptation came to him through Potiphar's wife, but Joseph resisted through his loyalty to Potiphar; his firm knowledge of God, which kept uppermost in his mind the sinfulness of her proposals, and his sheer physical removal from such sin.
 It would seem that perhaps Potiphar realized that Joseph's predicament was his wife's fault rather than Joseph's, for the normal procedure in an Oriental country would have been torture and execution for an attempted crime of this nature; yet Joseph is simply imprisoned.

"But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven." —Matthew 5:44-45.

When Joseph is finally taken from prison and called before Pharaoh, special mention is made of the fact that he shaved. This is probably because, as the ancient historian Herodotus tells us, the Egyptians grew beards only when in mourning, or in low position. In Palestine, on the other hand, the beard was considered ornamental. Joseph, therefore, would probably have worn one in prison, but desired to shave it when going before Pharaoh.

Notice that when he interprets Pharaoh's dreams, he does not use the opportunity to aggrandize himself, but gives God full credit. Pharaoh apparently was endowed with great

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Sept. 13, the 256th day of 1963. There are 109 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1814 Francis Scott Key wrote the words of "The Star Spangled Banner" while being detained aboard a British fleet unit engaged in the bombardment of Fort Mifflin. The song did not become the U.S. national anthem until March 3, 1931 when it was so designated by an act of Congress.

On this date In 1788, the Constitutional Convention authorized the first election in the United States.

In 1847, U.S. troops captured the fortress of Chapultepec, Mexico.

In 1905, the Japanese warship Mikasa exploded and sank with the loss of 599 lives.

In 1943, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was elected president of China.

In 1949, a $200,000 fire destroyed 300 feet of the million dollar pier in Atlantic City, N.J.

Ten years ago . . . Communist China rejected United Nations' proposals for a political conference on Korean problems.

Five years ago . . . President Eisenhower called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev to restrain Red China from further military operations in the Taiwan Strait and to negotiate peaceful settlement of the issues involved.

One year ago . . . Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett declared that the state's public officials should be willing to go to jail for the cause of racial segregation.

Famed Tiffin Glass Firm Given New Breath of Life

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—"A lot of people said it was dead and I was just too foolish to know it," C.W. Carlson Jr. commented as he dashed around an aged factory here which Monday will resume producing some of the world's finest glassware.

Carlson is president of the new Tiffin Art Glass Corp. which has overcome huge odds to reopen the factory, closed down last December.

The 32-year-old executive appears to have the energy and vitality of a teenager, the wisdom of a man twice his years and underneath the command and authority of a Marine drill sergeant.

"I never believed that his business was through," Carlson said.

His father was president of the old firm, U. S. Glass Co., and brought it from an unknown operation in 1938 to a world-known producer of Tiffinware.

In 1958, the elder Carlson sold his interests in the firm but remained running the operation here. From then on it went downhill. Money seemed to evaporate and last December the doors closed.

From that dark day, Carlson has been planning for Monday.

He and three other former employees, Paul J. Williams, E. Ellsworth Beebe, and Miss Beatrice Platt, pooled their money and began rebuilding. Williams now is secretary and plant engineer and Miss Platt, formerly a secretary, is treasurer. Beebe died unexpectedly last June.

After obtaining two loans the little group managed to gain control of the plant property from the Teamsters Union which had picked up the option as an investment. Next, they gained control of about $500,000 of inventory—much of it unknown to the previous owners. Some glassware, now collectors items, appeared to have been created in the 1880s.

In June, with only limited area publicity, Carlson opened a warehouse for public sale to raise working capital.

In one day $15,000 had been poured into the cash registers. In two days, an estimated 10,000 persons had walked through the converted garage parking lot as attendants counted cars from 28 states.

Word was spread by word of mouth, tourists heard of the sale and stopped, jewellers who had Tiffin crystal swarmed in. The sale was repeated about two months later and a total of about $65,000 was raised.

With the reopening nearing Carlson put out a call for volunteers to help clean up the rambl-

ing brick plant. "I finally had to ask the radio station to start telling people to stay away," Carlson said. "We had so many folks out here working that they were getting in each others way."

Last week, Carlson and his little group began firing up huge furnaces which will pour out molten glass that will be hand-blown and shaped into glassware which is used in the White House and Buckingham Palace.

The energetic Carlson, who has been working in the plant since he was 16, is everywhere around the old factory. He will be down working on his hands and knees in front of a furnace as it builds up to 2,600 degrees and then he'll dash back up stairs to take care of orders, then back down to molding rooms to check on samples which workmen use literally to build some glass objects.

Monday, 100 skilled glassworkers will be back on a payroll. In about two weeks, Carlson plans to hire back another 100 and eventually build employment to 500, the payroll during the peak years of 1946-47.

"We already have orders for about $300,000," Carlson said. Tiffin glassware ranges from ash trays — some of them costing $150 — to huge crystal punch bowls running into the thousands of dollars.

The Tiffin label is known the world over and Carlson said he receives many requests just for labels because some past customer has had the label tear off an item.

Glassware has been produced in the city of about 23,000 since the 1880s. The industry rose to great heights in the 1940s, started slipping in the 1950s and collapsed last year.

Next week, Gov. James A. Rhodes is expected to visit the revitalized plant which appears headed back toward the peak years.

"We never had a loss of demand for our products, it was just a loss of capital," Carlson explained.

"One thing I'll guarantee . . . I'll never let this plant slip away from me again."

FORD IN HER FUTURE?—A reporter in Milan, Italy, quoted Mrs. Maria Cristina Vettore Austin (above) as saying she will marry Henry Ford II "as soon as he obtains a divorce." She is the widow of a British naval officer. She was quoted as saying it was "much better" if she and Ford were not seen together until his divorce.

Soviet Spaceship Activity Expected

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet spaceships soon will begin exploring the moon, perhaps within a few months, some space scientists predict.

Carrying automatic instruments, they could turn the moon into a Soviet scientific haven.

Long before American astronauts land on the moon, Soviet scientists could reap answers to major mysteries about the moon's surface, its craters, its interior, and perhaps its probable origin.

The Soviets already have a rocket—used to hurl their cosmonauts around the earth—powerful enough to land sensitive automatic instruments softly on the moon, one U.S. expert says. But it will be two years or more before the United States has a moon rocket capable of doing the same thing, he claims.

"It is only logical to expect the Russians to begin intensive exploration of the moon by remote control—which we would do right now if we could," said this scientist, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Sir Bernard Lovell, British radio astronomer, has predicted the Soviets would be making "soft" landings of instruments on the moon, possibly within a matter of months.

"The signs seem to point to imminent Soviet landings on the moon with highly sophisticated instruments," the American scientist said. "We presume the Russians will want to do the same type of exploration we plan to do before sending men to an unknown place."

The U.S. plans call for orbiting a television-equipped spacecraft around the moon, and for landing automatic instruments, in the program known as Surveyor.

The rocket for the Surveyor landings is the Centaur, using liquid hydrogen fuel. The timetable for Centaur has slipped nearly two years, the scientist said.

"We're simply stymied for lack of a rocket booster. With their head start on powerful boosters, the Russians could skim the cream in scientific exploration of the moon. I think we have to expect it."

The Soviets already have sent a space probe smashing into the moon's face, and taken some television photographs of its backside, as well as sending probes past the moon. One American Ranger probe hit the back side of the moon.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, fed up with the developing chaos in South Viet Nam, has pulled a veil over American actions there. That the United States will act seems certain. He left the how clouded over.

But Kennedy's very vagueness at his news conference Thursday, or rather the way he chose to be vague, can be interpreted as ominous for the dictatorship of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The United States has pumped billions of dollars in aid into Viet Nam—plus troops—to fight the war against Communists, fearing that if Viet Nam is lost all South-east Asia may be lost.

But Diem and his Roman Catholic family, in a country more than 70 per cent Buddhist, have turned the war into hash and brought the country to internal crisis by their repressions against Buddhists and students.

Some American actions, or pressures, or warnings may have already started.

The State Department has denied that this country's new ambassador to Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, has told Diem to throw out his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, head of the secret police. Nhu has acquired a sinister stature.

But strangely in the midst of all the domestic turmoil two other extremely important members of Diem's family have already left the country.

One, Nhu's arrogant wife, a storm center in the trouble with the Buddhists, has gone to Belgrade to attend an interparliamentary conference and will later go to New York.

The other, Diem's brother, Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc, who is now in Paris, has been in New York after visiting Rome where his scheduled audience with Pope Paul VI was canceled.

The Pope has said he is profoundly disturbed by events in Viet Nam. Thuc said in New York the Vatican had ordered him to shut up on the situation in his country. In short, he was silenced.

Still left in Viet Nam with Diem are his brother, Nhu, and another brother, a powerful but

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Temperatures at daybreak today were from 14 degrees cooler at Chesapeake to 24 degrees cooler at Toledo than those of 24 hours earlier.

Partly cloudy skies in the northern counties to cloudy skies in the southern and central counties was the picture at daybreak. Youngstown was the coolest spot with 44, while the warmest was Chesapeake with 59.

Some light drizzle was falling at Dayton and Chesapeake early today.

Rainfall amounts varied from .48 of an inch at Columbus to 1.07 inches at Piketon and 1.06 inches at Circleville.

The morning weather map has a large high pressure system centered over Sault Ste. Marie bringing cool dry Canadian air into the state.

The front that passed through Ohio Thursday was in Eastern Kentucky and Central Tennessee.

OHIO FIVE DAYS FORECASTS

Rainfall will average less than one-tenth inch as a few showers about Monday, possibly again by midweek.

seldom-mentioned figure, Ngo Dinh Can, who holds no official position but is boss of the central part of the country.

Both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have handled Diem very gingerly because, so the reports in Washington go, he was strongly anti-Communist and it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find anyone to replace him.

It seems the Diem family traded on the American belief in their indispensability and ran both the war and the country with a high hand. The breaking point started with the conflict with the Buddhists last May, reaching a recent climax.

Thursday, several hours before Kennedy's news conference, 22 senators introduced a resolution to put Congress on record as favoring a halt to all aid to Diem unless he abandons his policies of "repression" and seeks popular support.

Then at his conference Kennedy said this country will support what helps the war against the Communists, oppose what hinders it. He added: "I do not think it advisable to state all our views at this time. I think they will be made more clear as time goes on."

Heart Attack Kills Driver after Mishap

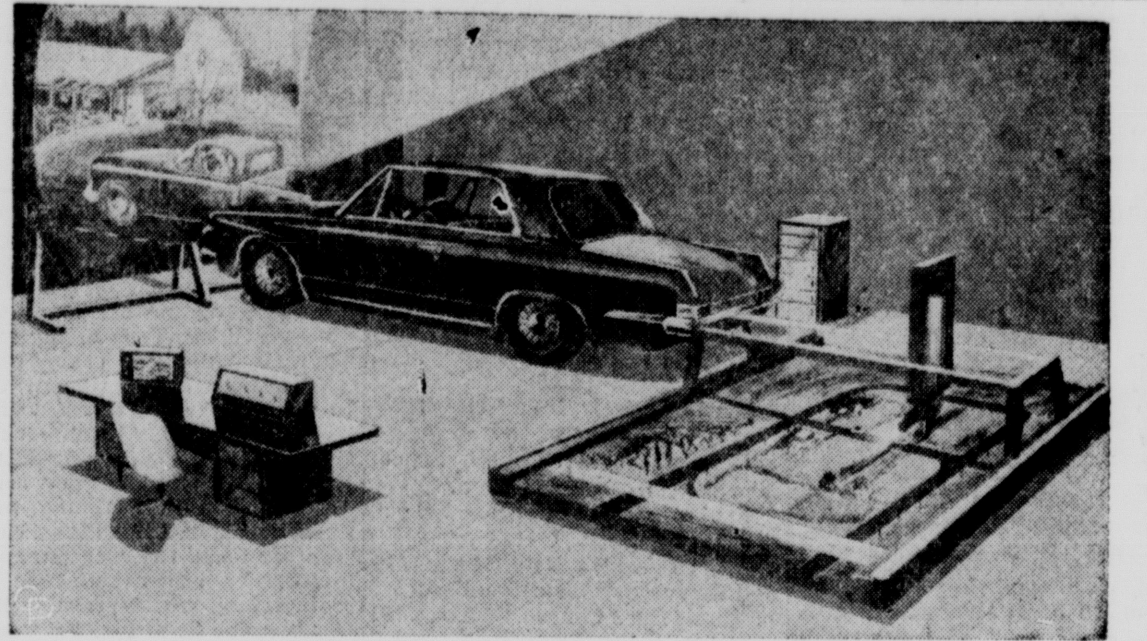

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Charles Theodore Miner, 39, of Mentor died of a heart attack late Thursday after his car and another collided at the Ohio 306-Joseph Street intersection in Kirtland Township, the Highway Patrol reported. His wife, Nora, 36, and daughter, Sherry, 16, were injured.

The patrol said the other car was driven by Lawrence M. Davies, 56, of Rt. 2, Willoughby. He was released after treatment for an arm injury at Lake County Memorial Hospital East in Painesville.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, fed up with the developing chaos in South Viet Nam, has pulled a veil over American actions there. That the United States will act seems certain. He left the how clouded over.

But Kennedy's very vagueness at his news conference Thursday, or rather the way he chose to be vague, can be interpreted as ominous for the dictatorship of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The United States has pumped billions of dollars in aid into Viet Nam—plus troops—to fight the war against Communists, fearing that if Viet Nam is lost all Southeast Asia may be lost.

But Diem and his Roman Catholic family, in a country more than 70 per cent Buddhist, have turned the war into hash and brought the country to internal crisis by their repressions against Buddhists and students.

Some American actions, or pressures, or warnings may have already started.

The State Department has denied that this country's new ambassador to Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, has told Diem to throw out his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, head of the secret police. Nhu has acquired a sinister stature.

But strangely in the midst of all the domestic turmoil two other extremely important members of Diem's family have already left the country.

One, Nhu's arrogant wife, a storm center in the trouble with the Buddhists, has gone to Belgrade to attend an interparliamentary conference and will later go to New York.

The other, Diem's brother, Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc, who is now in Paris, has been in New York after visiting Rome where his scheduled audience with Pope Paul VI was canceled.

The Pope has said he is profoundly disturbed by events in Viet Nam. Thuc said in New York the Vatican had ordered him to shut up on the situation in his country. In short, he was silenced.

Still left in Viet Nam with Diem are his brother, Nhu, and another brother, a powerful but seldom-mentioned figure, Ngo Dinh Can, who holds no official position but is boss of the central part of the country.

The morning weather map has a large high pressure system centered over Sault Ste. Marie bringing cool dry Canadian air into the state.

The front that passed through Ohio Thursday was in Eastern Kentucky and Central Tennessee.

By James Morlow

Both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have handled Diem very gingerly because, so the reports in Washington go, he was strongly anti-Communist and it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find anyone to replace him.

It seems the Diem family traded on the American belief in their indispensability and ran both the war and the country with a high hand. The breaking point started with the conflict with the Buddhists last May, reaching a recent climax.

Thursday, several hours before Kennedy's news conference, 22 senators introduced a resolution to put Congress on record as favoring a halt to all aid to Diem unless he abandons his policies of "repression" and seeks popular support.

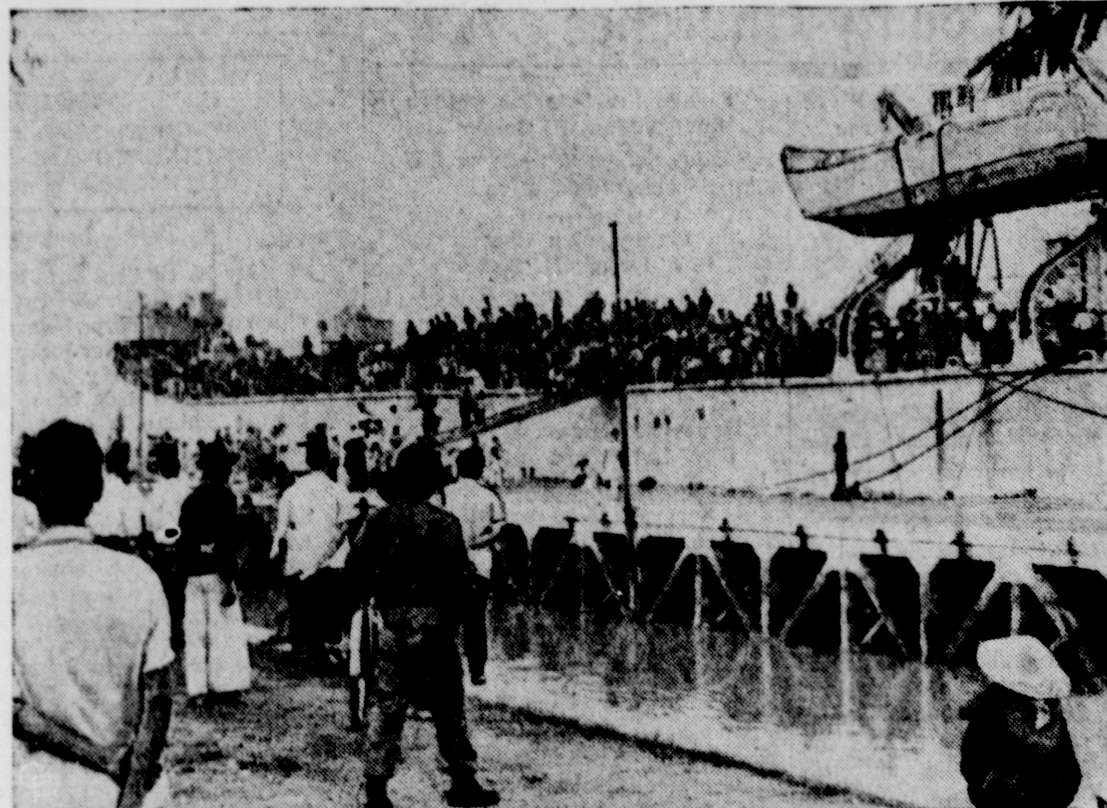

Then at his conference Kennedy said this country will support what helps the war against the Communists, oppose what hinders it. He added: "I do not think it advisable to state all our views at this time. I think they will be made more clear as time goes on."

Roseboro's Bat Assures Win For Dodgers

Grand Slam Homer, Single Bring 5-3 Victory over Cubs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
John Roseboro hit a grand slam homer and a run scoring single to produce all the runs in a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night that maintained the Los Angeles Dodgers' three-game grip on the National League lead.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals won their sixth consecutive game and 15th in the last 16 by blending the pitching of Ernie Broglio and the slugging of Bill White and Stan Musial for an 8-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

In the only other NL games Thursday, San Francisco's Juan Marichal four-hit the New York Mets 6-0, and Philadelphia defeated Houston 4-1.

The American League leading New York Yankees defeated Kansas City 5-2, the Minnesota Twins edged Cleveland 3-2 in 10 innings and the Los Angeles Angels blanked Boston 2-0 in the only games scheduled.

Roseboro, 30, a left-handed swinging catcher, is hitting only .245 with nine homers and 48 runs batted in. But he supplied the power early against the Pirates, getting his grand slam off Bob Friend, 16-15, in the first inning.

The Pirates could manage only four hits off Johnny Podres, 13-10, through seven innings. When they started to connect in the eighth, Ron Perranoski preserved the victory in his 61st relief appearance.

Broglio brought his record to 16-8 with an eight-hitter, but missed an opportunity to provide the Cardinal staff with its fourth straight shutout. Doubles by Ellis Burton and Ken Hubbs in the seventh inning snapped a string of 36 scoreless innings by St. Louis pitchers, then John Boeckel and Jim Schaffer homered in the ninth for the Cubs.

Marichal, who hit his first major league homer, also got home run support from Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey. Marichal brought his record to 22-8 with the victory and struck out 13 Mets.

Ray Culp, 13-11, set the Colts down on five hits while Roy Sievers and Tony Taylor hit homers for the Phillies.

Westfall Admitted To SV Conference

Westfall High School, not yet consolidated, was accepted into the Scioto Valley Conference last night during a meeting of the group at Chillicothe.

Construction of the last of the consolidated high schools in Pickaway County is still under way, and the new building is not expected to be completed in time for occupancy during the current school year.

However, the members of the Scioto Valley Conference voted to accept the school on a partial basis for the 1963-64 year and for full athletic competition in the 1964-65 school year.

The status of the school in the league will permit competition in track and baseball this spring, if the consolidation is completed.

SCHOOLS involved in the consolidation are Darby, Jackson, Monroe and Williamsport-Atlanta.

The acceptance of Westfall into the SVC increased the number of schools in the loop to six.

Charter members of the league are Logan Elm, Laurelville, Paint Valley and Piketon. Last year Unioto was admitted for basketball and spring sports competition.

In other action taken during the meeting, the slate of officers who served during the past year was unanimously reelected.

David Way, executive head of the Piketon Schools, is the president; John Henn, executive head of the Logan Elm School District, is the vice president. LeRoy Silvani, athletic director and basketball coach at Unioto, is the secretary-treasurer of conference.

The league football championship will be decided by awarding two points for a win, and one point for a tie for each conference game.

All schools play seven league games with the exception of Laurelville with only six on the schedule. Last weeks tilt between Logan Elm and Laurelville was the first loop grid tilt.

HERE IS the league football schedule:
Sept. 13 — Logan Elm at Unioto, Paint Valley at Piketon.
Sept. 14 — Laurelville at New Lexington St. Aloysius.

Sept. 20 — Unioto at Piketon, Sheridan at Logan Elm, Laurelville, open.

Texas '11' Chalks Up Win over Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Halfback Bill Nelson intercepted a pass with 56 seconds left in the game and ran 66 yards for a touchdown to give the Texas Lutheran Bulldogs a 14-7 victory over Youngstown University in the season opener for both teams Thursday night.

The Bulldogs took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. The Penguins tied the score in the fourth period after a 58-yard, six-play march that ended with Phil Williams carrying the final 15 yards.

141 To Enter Ohio Golf Open

Plenty of Stars Set For Trial Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will wind up its 1963 championship golf campaign next week when a star-filled field of 141 goes after the 41st State Open title currently held by Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland.

The 72-hole medal play test is booked for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Walnut Hills Country Club here. The 6,900-yard not-too-hilly par 72 layout is expected to take a beating.

The $650 first prize, which probably will be hoisted to $1,000 by payoff time, has lured most of the state's play-for-pay contingent, along with a host of top-flight amateurs. The total prize fund is expected to go well over the $4,000 mark, with the top 20 finishers sharing the loot.

The field will play 18 holes each of the first two days, then will be cut to the low 60 professionals and 12 low amateurs for Wednesday's 36-hole marathon finish.

Shave, who triumphed last year at Akron Firestone, will defend his laurels, but he faces a stern set of challengers.

Among them are Eddie Griffiths of Chagrin Falls, a former winner; veteran Bob Kepler, Ohio State coach who tied for the crown as an amateur back in the thirties; Byron (Barney) Hunt of Columbus, a standout amateur who once grabbed the State Public Links crown; Dick Rhyen Sr. of Columbus, also a Public Links victor.

Also, Val Chivierini of Toledo, three-time Public Links king and now a professional; Herman Keiser of Barberton, former Masters champion; Harold Paddock of Cleveland, a threat in every tournament; Dave Daniels of Columbus, twice winner of the state Public Links who will join the touring professionals this winter; Walter Stahl of Cleveland, former State Amateur king who cut such a swath through the U.S. Amateur now being held in Des Moines.

Also, Pandel Savic, Ohio State's long-hitting ex-quarterback; Tom Weiskopf of Bedford, current Western Amateur king and twice winner of the State Public Links laurels, and Bobby Litter of Athens, who has won about everything in the youthful amateur ranks.

Meadow Skipper Cops Lush Pace

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Meadow Skipper, the colt who was expected to beat Overtrack if such a thing was possible in the $163,187 Cane Futurity, did just that Thursday night.

A crowd of 24,066 fans at Yonkers Raceway watched two of the fastest pacers in history battle it out in the one mile Futurity, second richest harness race. It was a near world record performance for 3-year-old pacers.

The winner paid $8.70 for $2 and took down first prize of $89,753.

Meadow Skipper was clocked in 1:58 4-5, compared with the world mark of 1:58 3-5 for 3-year-old pacers on a one-half mile oval set by Bullet Hanover and Muncy Hanover in heats of the 1960 Little Brown Jug.

Jerry Lucas Excused From Royals Practice

CINCINNATI (AP)—To the surprise of no one, Jerry Lucas apparently has it made with the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association.

The Royals management announced today that Lucas, the former three-time All-America from Ohio State, has been excused from the final two days of rookie drills.

The Bulldogs took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. The Penguins tied the score in the fourth period after a 58-yard, six-play march that ended with Phil Williams carrying the final 15 yards.

Indian Loss Is Blamed on Small Stone

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cleveland first baseman Fred Whitfield says a small stone caused all the trouble. Indian Manager Birdie Tebbetts says Whitfield is partly to blame.

Whichever version is correct, the Tribe still lost a 10-winning game with Minnesota Thursday, 3-2, at Minneapolis. What Whitfield and Tebbetts were talking about was a bunt by Jimmie Hall that stayed fair and set up the Twins' winning run.

Cleveland had tied the score at 2-2 Thursday with back-to-back homers in the ninth by Max Alvis and Whitfield.

But Pedro Ramos started the 10th by walking Vic Power. Then Hall, who had blasted a two-run homer in the eighth, bunted. The ball rolled down the first base line and stayed right on the chalk.

Whitfield let it roll and it stayed fair, finally hitting the bag.

By this time Hall had crossed first base and Power had raced to third. Tebbetts ordered Lennie Green walked to fill the bases. Bob Allison then lifted a fly to center, scoring Power.

"It was a crime to lose that one," said Tebbetts. "Fred should have at least picked up the ball so Power couldn't go to third."

"The ball was just about to roll foul and then hit a stone and jumped right back in," said Whitfield.

Semifinals Due Today in U.S. Amateur

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—It's Charlie Coe vs. Dick Sikes and Deane Beman vs. George Archer in the semifinals today of the U.S. Amateur golf tournament.

Archer, 23, who is studying to be a cowboy at Gilroy, Calif., has won the San Francisco City championship, the Northern California Open and is the Trans-Mississippi champion.

He downed a friend of his, NCAA runner-up John Lotz of San Jose State, 3 and 2, and then spilled NAIA small college champion Steve Spray of Eastern New Mexico U. 1 up, in Thursday's double round.

Ben, an scrambled to a 1 up, 19-hole decision over Barry Meerdink of Muscatine, Iowa, before routing Cleveland salesman Walter Stahl, 6 and 5, with one-under-par play in the afternoon.

Sikes, 23, Americas Walker and World cupper, and NCAA champ from Arkansas, sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the last hole to eliminate Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W. Va., and fired 14 straight pars in humbling John Owens of Lexington, Ky., 6 and 4 in the quarter-finals.

Coe, the U.S. champion in 1949 and 1958, had a couple of breezes — 8 and 7 over Jimmy Thompson of the University of Texas, and 6 and 4 over Dick Guardiola of Cleveland.

First TV Grid Game Slated

ATLANTA (AP) — Florida and Georgia Tech meet Saturday in the opening game of the 1963 major college football season.

The nationally televised (CBS-TV) contest between the Southeastern Conference powers is the first major college game of the year, with only a handful of other games scheduled around the country. The college schedule won't get into full swing until next weekend.

The Yellow Jackets, rated a six-point favorite, have won 21 games to Florida's six in the history of the series. Five ended in ties. Tech finished fourth in the SEC last year with a 5-2 record and Florida came right behind with a 4-2 slate. Both teams are considered contenders for the conference title this season.

2 Straight 'A' Pre-Med Students To Be Buck QBs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Woody Hayes, starting what appears an "unlucky 13th" Ohio State football coaching season, may have a green Buckeye squad, but his quarterbacking should be the brainiest in the Big Ten.

Hayes lost eight offensive starters and four defensive regulars from a 1962 club which had an over-all 6-3 record and a 4-2 Big Ten mark for a third-place tie behind Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The exodus of last season's talent included all three offensive quarterbacks, Bill Mrukowski, Joe Sparma and John Mummy, but Hayes doesn't seem concerned about this vital position.

One reason probably is that the present-day quarterback is supposed to be hot at passing, which Hayes doesn't do. The Bucks threw an average of only 11 times per game last year.

The other reason is that Hayes' top two quarterback candidates—sophomore Don Unverferth and junior letterman Arnold Chonko—are academic bluebloods, "fabulous students" to the awe of Woody.

Both are straight "A" pre-med students. Whether they can outsmart the bruising opposition in a schedule including three of the nation's highest rated clubs—Southern California, Wisconsin and Northwestern — remains to be seen.

Certainly the Buckeyes appear weakest at their traditionally strong point, "down the middle." In addition to rebuilding at quarterback, Hayes must shore up the loss of all three centers and all three offensive fullbacks.

But Hayes is high on a 200-pound fullback, Tom Barrington, who with 235-pound tackle Doug Van Horn and 212-pound center Dwight Kelley rate as starting sophomores.

However, with Barrington sidelined because of a fractured jaw suffered in a summer industrial accident, the starting Buckeye fullback in the Sept. 28 opener against Texas A & M probably will be brilliant end Matt Snell.

The shift is easy for Snell, who like holdover All-American candidate Paul Warfield, is a halfback by breeding and choice.

"We're not big, we have fairly good speed, but we're green as grass," is the way Hayes describes his flock which includes 19 returning lettermen, including 10 holdover regulars of either offensive or defensive pedigree.

Hayes says he has only four seniors who are "good football players," which would indicate that this is a rare rebuilding season at Ohio State, with 15 juniors and 12 sophs in the first 35.

But with his usual nifty conversational footwork, Hayes said "football is a funny business" and that while Wisconsin and Northwestern should be favored in the Big Ten, his Buckeyes "I think, will stick in the race."

The key Buckeyes, besides talented Warfield and Snell, include quarterback Unverferth and such other returning 1962 regulars as halfback Bennie Espy; ex-tackle Dan Porretta at guard; guard Tom Jenkins, heaviest on the squad at 238; Ormonde Ricketts, an end also playing defensive tackle; Ed Orazen, a defensive tackle and offensive end; and Bill Spahr, an offensive end whom Hayes says is better on defense.

Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels hit 37 home runs in 1962 and only five of them came off left-handed pitchers.

Roseboro's Bat Assures Win For Dodgers

Grand Slam Homer, Single Bring 5-3 Victory over Cubs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
John Roseboro hit a grand slam homer and a run scoring single to produce all the runs in a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night that maintained the Los Angeles Dodgers' three-game grip on the National League lead.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals won their sixth consecutive game and 15th in the last 16 by blending the pitching of Ernie Broglio and the slugging of Bill White and Stan Musial for an 8-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

In the only other NL games Thursday, San Francisco's Juan Marichal four-hit the New York Mets 6-0, and Philadelphia defeated Houston 4-1.

The American League leading New York Yankees defeated Kansas City 5-2, the Minnesota Twins edged Cleveland 3-2 in 10 innings and the Los Angeles Angels blanked Boston 2-0 in the only games scheduled.

Roseboro, 30, a left-handed swinging catcher, is hitting only .245 with nine homers and 48 runs batted in. But he supplied the power early against the Pirates, getting his grand slam off Bob Friend, 16-15, in the first inning.

The Pirates could manage only four hits off Johnny Podres, 13-10, through seven innings. When they started to connect in the eighth, Ron Perranoski preserved the victory in his 61st relief appearance.

Broglio brought his record to 16-8 with an eight-hitter, but missed an opportunity to provide the Cardinal staff with its fourth straight shutout. Doubles by Ellis Burton and Ken Hubbs in the seventh inning snapped a string of 36 scoreless innings by St. Louis pitchers, then John Boeckel and Jim Schaffer homered in the ninth for the Cubs.

Marichal, who hit his first major league homer, also got major run support from Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey. Marichal brought his record to 22-8 with the victory and struck out 13 Mets.

Ray Culp, 13-11, set the Colts down on five hits while Roy Sievers and Tony Taylor hit homers for the Phillies.

Nuxhall Gets Nod To Conquer Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds planned to put southpaw Joe Nuxhall on the mound today in an effort to climb higher toward fifth place in the National League at the expense of Chicago.

Nuxhall, who started with the Reds 20 years ago as a youngster of 15, has piled up 13 victories this year compared to seven defeats.

The Reds had a day off Thursday before starting a three-game series against the Cubs. After the Chicago games, they return to Crosley Field for their last home games of 1963.

Of Lehigh's 51 football candidates reporting to Coach Mike Cooley, 12 are lettermen.

Westfall Admitted To SV Conference

Westfall High School, not yet consolidated, was accepted into the Scioto Valley Conference last night during a meeting of the group at Chillicothe.

Construction of the last of the consolidated high schools in Pickaway County is still under way, and the new building is not expected to be completed in time for occupancy during the current school year.

However, the members of the Scioto Valley Conference voted to accept the school on a partial basis for the 1963-64 year and for full athletic competition in the 1964-65 school year.

The status of the school in the league will permit competition in track and baseball this spring, if the consolidation is completed.

SCHOOLS involved in the consolidation are Darby, Jackson, Monroe and Williamsport-Atlanta.

The acceptance of Westfall into the SVC increased the number of schools in the loop to six.

Charter members of the league are Logan Elm, Laurelville, Paint Valley and Piketon. Last year Unioto was admitted for basketball and spring sports competition.

In other action taken during the meeting, the slate of officers who served during the past year was unanimously reelected.

David Way, executive head of the Piketon Schools, is the president; John Henn executive head of the Logan Elm School District, is the vice president. LeRoy Silvani, athletic director and basketball coach at Unioto, is the secretary-treasurer of conference.

The league football championship will be decided by awarding two points for a win, and one point for a tie for each conference game.

All schools play seven league games with the exception of Laurelville with only six on the schedule. Last weeks tilt between Logan Elm and Laurelville was the first loop grid tilt.

HERE IS is the league football schedule:

Sept. 13 — Logan Elm at Unioto, Paint Valley at Piketon.

Sept. 14 — Laurelville at New Lexington St. Aloisius.

Sept. 20 — Unioto at Piketon, Sheridan at Logan Elm, Laurelville, open.

Indianapolis Near IL Championship

ATLANTA (AP)—The Indianapolis Indians will be trying to capture the Governor's Cup tonight to place alongside their International League pennant.

The Indians defeated Atlanta 7-3 Thursday night to gain a 3-1 lead in a best-of-seven series for the Governor's Cup. A victory tonight would clinch the trophy.

Johnny Kucks and Indian left-hander Frank Kreutzler were locked in a scoreless pitching duel going into the sixth inning Thursday night. But four Cracker errors coupled with Gene Stephens' three-run homer proved more than enough for the Tribe victory.

Country Don Wins Brown Jug Trial

LIVONIA, Mich. (AP)—Country Don stepped to his 15th straight victory in the $19,500 Brown Jug Trial Thursday night at Wolverine Harness Raceway and established himself as a strong contender for the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio next week.

Country Don paid $2.60 in earning $9,250 and booting his season bankroll to $92,143.

Texas '11' Chalks Up Win over Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Halfback Bill Nelson intercepted a pass with 56 seconds left in the game and ran 66 yards for a touchdown to give the Texas Lutheran Bulldogs a 14-7 victory over Youngstown University in the season opener for both teams Thursday night.

The Bulldogs took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. The Penguins tied the score in the fourth period after a 58-yard, six-play march that ended with Phil Williams carrying the final 15 yards.

141 To Enter Ohio Golf Open

Plenty of Stars Set For Trial Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will wind up its 1963 championship golf campaign next week when a star-filled field of 141 goes after the 41st State Open title currently held by Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland.

The 72-hole medal play test is booked for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Walnut Hills Country Club here. The 6,900-yard not-too-hilly par 72 layout is expected to take a beating.

The $650 first prize, which probably will be hoisted to $1,000 by payoff time, has lured most of the state's play-for-pay contingent, along with a host of top-flight amateurs. The total prize fund is expected to go well over the $4,000 mark, with the top 20 finishers sharing the loot.

The field will play 18 holes each of the first two days, then will be cut to the low 60 professionals and 12 low amateurs for Wednesday's 36-hole marathon finish.

Shave, who triumphed last year at Akron Firestone, will defend his laurels, but he faces a stern set of challengers.

Among them are Eddie Griffiths of Chagrin Falls, a former winner; veteran Bob Kepler, Ohio State coach who tied for the crown as a amateur back in the thirties; Byron (Barney) Hunt of Columbus, a standout amateur who once grabbed the State Public Links crown; Dick Rhyman Sr. of Columbus, also a Public Links victor.

Also, Val Chiaverini of Toledo, three-time Public Links king and now a professional; Herman Keiser of Barberton, former Masters champion; Harold Paddock of Cleveland, a threat in every tournament; Dave Daniels of Columbus, twice winner of the state Public Links who will join the touring professionals this winter; Walter Stahl of Cleveland, former State Amateur king who cut such a swath through the U.S. Amateur now being held in Des Moines.

Also, Pandel Savic, Ohio State's long-hitting ex-quarterback; Tom Weiskopf of Bedford, current Western Amateur king and twice winner of the State Public Links laurels, and Bobby Litterer of Athens, who has won about everything in the youthful amateur ranks.

Meadow Skipper Cops Lush Pace

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Meadow Skipper, the colt who was expected to beat Overtrack if such a thing was possible in the $163,187 Cane Futurity, did just that Thursday night.

A crowd of 24,066 fans at Yonkers Raceway watched two of the fastest pacers in history battle it out in the one mile Futurity, second richest harness race. It was a near world record performance for 3-year-old pacers.

The winner paid $8.70 for $2 and took down first prize of $89,753.

Meadow Skipper was clocked in 1:58.4-5, compared with the world mark of 1:58.3-5 for 3-year-old pacers on a one-half mile oval set by Bullet Hanover and Muncy Hanover in heats of the 1960 Little Brown Jug.

Jerry Lucas Excused From Royals Practice

CINCINNATI (AP)—To the surprise of no one, Jerry Lucas apparently has it made with the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association.

The Royals management announced today that Lucas, the former three-time All-America from Ohio State, has been excused from the final two days of rookie drills.

The Bulldogs took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter. The Penguins tied the score in the fourth period after a 58-yard, six-play march that ended with Phil Williams carrying the final 15 yards.

Indian Loss Is Blamed on Small Stone

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cleveland first baseman Fred Whitfield says a small stone caused all the trouble. Indian Manager Birdie Tebbetts says Whitfield is partly to blame.

Whichever version is correct, the Tribe still lost a 10-winning game with Minnesota Thursday, 3-2, at Minneapolis. What Whitfield and Tebbetts were talking about was a bunt by Jimmie Hall that stayed fair and set up the Twins' winning run.

Cleveland had tied the score at 2-2 Thursday with back-to-back homers in the ninth by Max Alvis and Whitfield.

But Pedro Ramos started the 10th by walking Vic Power. Then Hall, who had blasted a two-run homer in the eighth, bunted. The ball rolled down the first base line and stayed right on the chalk. Whitfield let it roll and it stayed fair, finally hitting the bag.

By this time Hall had crossed first base and Power had raced to third. Tebbetts ordered Lennie Green walked to fill the bases. Bob Allison then lifted a fly to center, scoring Power.

"It was a crime to lose that one," said Tebbetts. "Fred should have at least picked up the ball so Power couldn't go to third."

"The ball was just about to roll foul and then hit a stone and jumped right back in," said Whitfield.

Semifinals Due Today in U.S. Amateur

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—It's Charlie Coe vs. Dick Sikes and Deane Beman vs. George Archer in the semifinals today of the U.S. Amateur golf tournament.

Archer, 23, who is studying to be a cowboy at Gilroy, Calif., has won the San Francisco City championship, the Northern California Open and is the Trans-Mississippi champion.

He downed a friend of his, NCAA runner-up John Lotz of San Jose State, 3 and 2, and then spilled NAIA small college champion Steve Spray of Eastern New Mexico U, 1 up, in Thursday's double round.

Ben scrambled to a 1 up, 19-hole decision over Barry Meerdink of Muscatine, Iowa, before routing Cleveland salesman Walter Stahl, 6 and 5, with one-under-par play in the afternoon.

Sikes, 23, Americas Walker and World copper, and NCAA champ from Arkansas, sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the last hole to eliminate Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W. Va., and fired 14 straight pars in humbling John Owens of Lexington, Ky., 6 and 4 in the quarter-finals.

Coe, the U.S. champion in 1949 and 1958, had a couple of breezes — 8 and 7 over Jimmy Thompson of the University of Texas, and 6 and 4 over Dick Giardiola of Cleveland.

First TV Grid Game Slated

ATLANTA (AP) — Florida and Georgia Tech meet Saturday in the opening game of the 1963 major college football season.

The nationally televised (CBS-TV) contest between the Southeastern Conference powers is the first major college game of the year, with only a handful of other games scheduled around the country. The college schedule won't get into full swing until next weekend.

The Yellow Jackets, rated a six-point favorite, have won 21 games to Florida's six in the history of the series. Five ended in ties. Tech finished fourth in the SEC last year with a 5-2 record and Florida came right behind with a 4-2 slate. Both teams are considered contenders for the conference title this season.

2 Straight 'A' Pre-Med Students To Be Buck QBs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Woody Hayes, starting what appears an "unlucky 13th" Ohio State football coaching season, may have a green Buckeye squad, but his quarterbacking should be the brainiest in the Big Ten.

Hayes lost eight offensive starters and four defensive regulars from a 1962 club which had an over-all 6-3 record and a 4-2 Big Ten mark for a third-place tie behind Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The exodus of last season's talent included all three offensive quarterbacks, Bill Mrukowski, Joe Sparma and John Mumme, but Hayes doesn't seem concerned about this vital position.

One reason probably is that the present-day quarterback is supposed to be hot at passing, which Hayes doesn't do. The Bucks threw an average of only 11 times per game last year.

The other reason is that Hayes' top two quarterback candidates—sophomore Don Unverferth and junior letterman Arnold Chonko—are academic bluebloods, "fabulous students" to the awed Woody.

Both are straight "A" pre-med students. Whether they can out-smart the bruising opposition in a schedule including three of the nation's highest rated clubs—Southern California, Wisconsin and Northwestern — remains to be seen.

Certainly the Buckeyes appear weakest at their traditionally strong point, "down the middle." In addition to rebuilding at quarterback, Hayes must shore up the loss of all three centers and all three offensive fullbacks.

But Hayes is high on a 200-pound fullback, Tom Barrington, who with 235-pound tackle Doug Van Horn and 212-pound center Dwight Kelley rate as starting sophomores.

However, with Barrington sidelined because of a fractured jaw

suffered in a summer industrial accident, the starting Buckeye fullback in the Sept. 28 opener against Texas A & M probably will be brilliant end Matt Snell.

The shift is easy for Snell, who like holdover All-American candidate Paul Warfield, is a halfback by breeding and choice.

"We're not big, we have fairly good speed, but we're green as grass," is the way Hayes describes his flock which includes 19 returning lettermen, including 10 holdover regulars of either offensive or defensive pedigree.

Hayes says he has only four seniors who are "good football players," which would indicate that this is a rare rebuilding season at Ohio State, with 15 juniors and 12 sophs in the first 35.

But with his usual nifty conversational footwork, Hayes said "football is a funny business" and that while Wisconsin and Northwestern should be favored in the Big Ten, his Buckeyes "I think, will stick in the race."

The key Buckeyes, besides talented Warfield and Snell, include quarterback Unverferth and such other returning 1962 regulars as halfback Bennie Espy; ex-tackle Dan Porretta at guard; guard Tom Jenkins, heaviest on the squad at 238; Ormonde Ricketts, an end also playing defensive tackle; Ed Orazen, a defensive tackle and offensive end; and Bill Spahr, an offensive end whom Hayes says is better on defense.

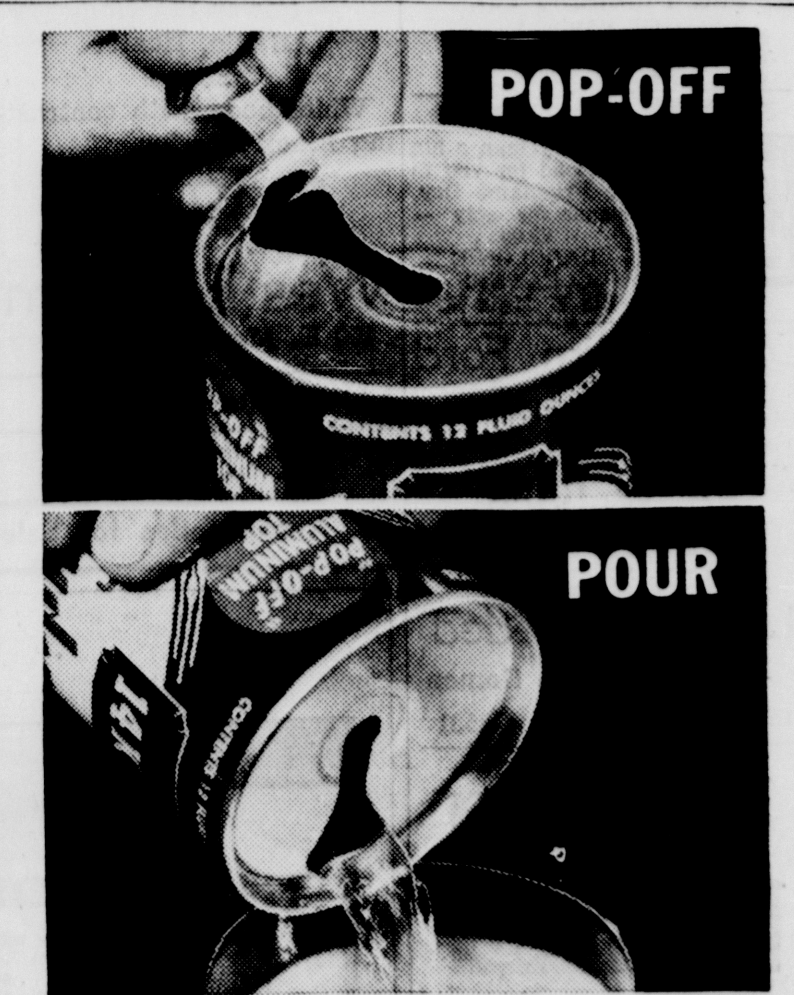

Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels hit 37 home runs in 1962 and only five of them came off left-handed pitchers.

BG, Miami, OU Appear Tops On Mid-Am Grid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio University, three schools that have dominated the Mid-American Conference in recent years, appear headed for another showdown to determine the league's football king.

But the seven-team conference, with all of its members in the "major" classification, may have more balance this season than at any time in its 17-year history.

"I believe the conference has finally matured," said Dave Reese, MAC commissioner, in a pre-season snoop.

"I feel Marshall, Kent State, Toledo, and Western Michigan will all have improved teams over 1962. And I'll be greatly surprised if they don't give a good account of themselves," Reese added.

The coaches, themselves, however, are going along with Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio U. as the teams to beat.

In a poll conducted by The Associated Press, the coaches selected Bowling Green and Miami for MAC honors with Ohio U. a close third.

Doyt Perry's Bowling Green team will be shooting for a third straight championship but the Falcon coach isn't too optimistic.

"Of our 15 lettermen only two were starters last season. We'll be lucky to make a fight for third place," said Perry, who in eight seasons has chalked up an enviable record of 60 wins, 7 losses and 5 ties.

Perry must go with more youth than ever before since graduation claimed 16 of his top 22 performers.

But the team has a good nucleus and a flashy halfback in Jay Cunningham, a junior who gained more than 300 yards as a soph.

There's good over-all speed and a newcomer whom Perry's high on. He's Tony Lawrence, a 332-pound offensive tackle whose father Brooks played baseball for the Cincinnati Reds.

Miami, long a giant-killer in football circles, has a new coach in Glenn (Bo) Schembechler, a former Ohio State tutor.

Schembechler has 25 returning lettermen, including a classy backfield contingent that rates as the best in the league.

Quarterback Ernie Kellermann, an adept passer and runner, is the key to the attack. As a soph, Kellermann set a single season school record for total offense with 1,227 yards. The backfield unit also includes Scott Tyler, a nifty halfback and Tom Longworth, the No. 2 ground-gainer last year who goes at fullback.

The Redskins may have some up-front weaknesses since only one starter returns from the offensive line. Also, Bob Jencks, the team's fine placekicker and leading scorer a year ago, has graduated.

Ohio U. has a young team with only five seniors, four of whom start. The Bobcats will be smaller than in recent years, but faster and more maneuverable. Coach Bill Hess says his team lacks depth and an experienced quarterback. And the 'Cats usually tough defense may be more vulnerable with the loss of some top linemen.

Ohio's top lineman is Skip Hoover, an agile 6-3, 225-pound junior voted the outstanding lineman in the 1963 Sun Bowl.

Toledo may be improved on defense but lacks depth and a scoring punch to make a serious challenge. The best of the linemen appears to be Wynn Lembright and Ron Dandurand.

Western Michigan faces a major rebuilding job in the line and has no experienced quarterback to lead the attack. Backs George Archer and Alan Gibbs will have to carry the load.

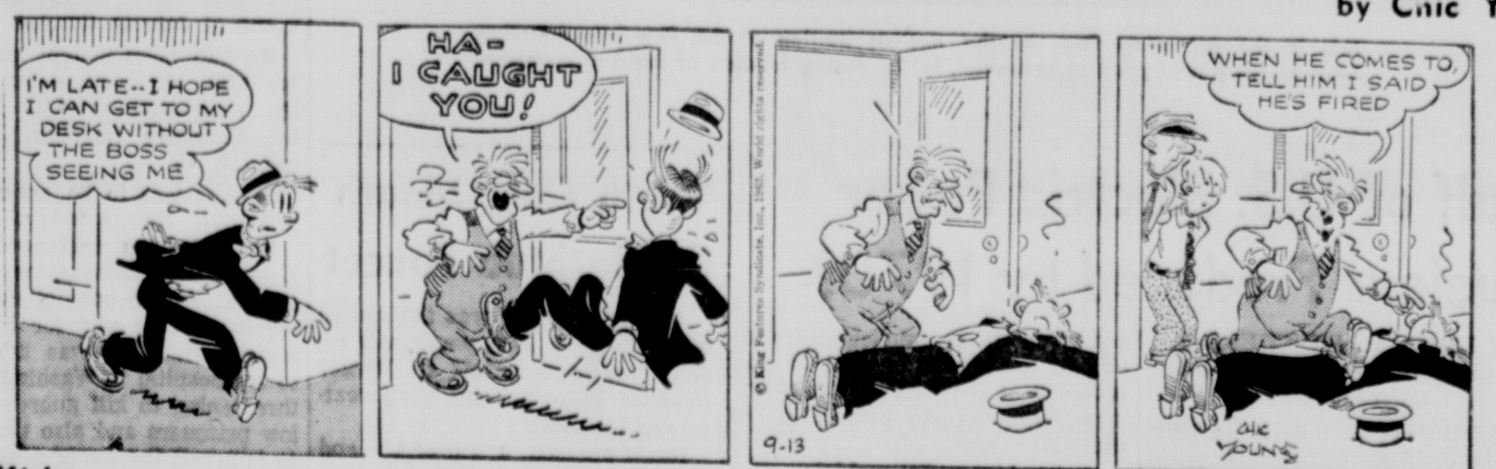

Marshall, with 21 lettermen back, looks for an improved year. Standouts are end Jim Cure and halfback Jim Brown.

Kent State, last a year ago, needs a quarterback to make any progress. The Golden Flashes have 17 returning lettermen, including five starters, and a fine halfback in Rick Bowling. Missing is Jim Flynn, third top signal-caller in the loop last year.

Half of U.S. Electric Power Nuclear Produced by 1970?

By JAMES H. WINCHESTER

WASHINGTON — With the completion or near completion of 13 commercial atomic power plants in the United States, the prediction now is that by 1970 nuclear power will be competitive with conventional power plants throughout most of the country, and that by the year 2000, more than half of all U. S. electrical power will be produced from atomic sources.

The first atomic commercial power plant was opened in this country in the late 1950s at Shippingport, Pa., near Pittsburgh. Since then others have been placed in operation at Hallam, Kan.; Parr, S. C.; Rowe, Mass.; Buchanan, N. Y.; Big Rock Point, Mich.; Elk River, Minn., and Morris, Ill.

Other plants are nearing completion at Humboldt Bay, Calif.; Sioux Falls, S. D.; Genoa, Wis.; Lagoona Beach, Mich., and Peach Bottom, Pa.

Typical of these new developments is the one at Morris, Ill. Built by Commonwealth Edison, it produces electricity sufficient to supply the needs of a city of 200,000.

Plans for what will be the nation's two largest nuclear power plants have also been announced. One will be privately-owned, one municipal. The Consolidated Edison Company of New York will build a huge nuclear plant in Long Island City, just across the East River from midtown Manhattan. It is expected to start operating by 1970.

The other big project is an 800,000-kilowatt plant in Hanford, Wash., due to start operating in 1965. Even further advanced are a 500-million watt station near Middletown, Conn., a 395-million watt installation near San Diego, Calif., and a 400-million watt station for Los Angeles.

Breakthrough toward really cheap nuclear power came last year when the Atomic Energy Commission announced that its first plutonium-fueled power reactor had achieved a self-sustaining chain reaction.

Such reactors, which manufacture more fuel than they burn, are the probable forerunners of the units that will soon be supplying cheap atomic power.

"Electricity produced from atomic engines will be so abundant and economical by 1980 that it will cost only 33 per cent of present prices for the average American in most cities," the Atomic Energy Commission predicts. Whether the atomic power plants are privately or municipally owned, all their reactor fuel is the property of the AEC, under a law prohibiting private ownership of fissionable material.

At its Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Oak Ridge, Tenn., facilities, the AEC is conducting several studies into the low-cost production of atomic power equivalent to that from 2.6 million pounds of Pennsylvania's finest coal.

Another report shows that huge nuclear power plants, three times larger than any existing conventional plant, could produce electricity for one-tenth of a cent per kilowatt hour, as compared to six or seven-tenths of a cent currently charged in average power areas. Such nuclear plants, says the AEC, can be put into operation within the next 15 years.

Scientists foresee vast amounts of steam from these nuclear power stations being used to distill up to one billion gallons of fresh water a day. Thus, they say, a single plant could bring down the cost of fresh water in a city like Los Angeles to at least five cents below what residents of that area now pay.

Water desalting plants tied to large power installations are now being seriously studied in many places, among them water-short Israel and Los Angeles. Already, the Snowy Mountain atomic power plant in Australia produces 200,000-kilowatts of electricity daily, in addition to distilling 100 million gallons of water for irrigation.

Most Wanted Man Revealed To Be Trucker

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, who had built up a thriving business in the more than a year he had lived in Cleveland, has been arrested by FBI agents and Cleveland police.

The fugitive, identified as Leroy Ambrosia Frazier, 43, offered no resistance when he was nabbed. He had been living under the name of Johnny Gray.

He had been sought since Jan. 14, 1962, when he escaped from the maximum security ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Frazier was to be arraigned on a fugitive charge today.

He had been sentenced to the Lorton, Va., Reformatory in January 1959 upon conviction for possessing heroin and for assaulting a policeman. He was transferred to the hospital in Washington after threatening to kill guards and fellow prisoners and also threatening to jump off the top of a high water tower, the FBI said.

Frazier, who had purchased two trucks and built up a general contracting business since coming here Jan. 27, 1962, said he had earned $16,000 last year.

Stock Market Still Uneven

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to move unevenly in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Selective gains by some of the pivotal blue chips kept market averages a bit to the plus side but the list as a whole was trendless.

Studebaker, up fractionally, looked as if it would repeat its role as the most active stock.

Steels and airlines worked lower. Rails nudged ahead although many of the leading carriers were unchanged.

Even most of the "glamour" issues showed relatively minor changes.

The motor group was ahead on average even though General Motors took a small loss. Drugs moved higher.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .43 at 740.69. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 280.9 with industrials up .4, rails up .4 and utilities up .1.

Brazil Probes Uprising by Its Non-Coms

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—Government officials launched an investigation today to determine the responsibility of Thursday's brief revolt in this capital by non-commissioned Brazilian officers demanding the right to run for office.

The War Ministry announced Thursday night that 550 to 600 insurgents from the air force, marines and navy were in custody. No army personnel were involved, the ministry said.

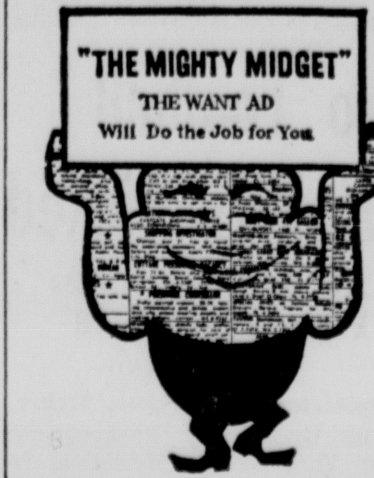

The predawn uprising was attributed to a ruling earlier this week by Brazil's supreme electoral tribunal. The ruling has been interpreted as barring military men from running for public office.

Normalcy returned to Brasilia although government troops in the capital and certain outlying cities remained in a state of alert.

Informants said an air force first sergeant, Antonio Prestes de Paula, led the uprising. However, a rebel sergeant said the movement, described as subversive by the armed forces ministers, had no specific leader.

"We are all responsible," the sergeant told a newsmen. "It wasn't an armed movement, otherwise we would have resisted longer. We didn't want to shoot Brazilians. We only wanted to call attention to our problems."

A 22-year-old marine rebel was killed and two other insurgents wounded in skirmishes with loyalist troops.
